Rapid progress is now being made on the new city building. According to city hall reports, all the brick work will be completed if the weather holds good for two more weeks.

George Grieve, 19 Smithfield street, and Bert Sisley, 114 Smithfield street, while hunting near DuBois, discovered a five-point buck at exactly the same moment and both took careful aim shooting about the same time. They felled the 140-pound deer but still do not know which shot brought the animal down.

Berlin Communists Launch "Nerve War" For Sunday Elections

BERLIN, Dec. 2.—(INS)—The communits-backed "rump" city council met in secret session today, presumably to draft a campaign of disruption against municipal elections to be held in the western sectors of Berlin on Sudnay.

There were reports of projected militant action by the communists in an effort to impose red rule over the entire city.

Such plans were reported going forward despite the announced intention of the United States, Great Britian and France to take whatever action may be made necessary by the communist assembly coup.

Western Powers Reserve Rights

Delegates of the western powers attending the United Nations assembly in Paris served notice that they reserved full freedom of action in view of the illegal nomination by communists on Tuesday of their own mayor and a city council.

The communist propaganda machine opened a "war of nerves" in an effort to discourage western Berliners from voting on Sunday.

Results of this election, being held under allied auspices to choose a new and legal assembly, are expected to represent a public rebuke to the communist regime in the east.

Soviet agents started a whispering campaign, threatening reprisals against Berliners who cast secret ballots in the Sunday polling.

Swift Justice For Plant Marauders Governor's Demand

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Dec. 2.—(INS)—Governor Kim Sigler demanded swift justice today for the marauders who descended on Kalamazoo's Shakespeare company plants in military fashion, wantonly destroyed property and attacked workers.

The governor ordered immediate steps toward organizing a grand jury to investigate yesterday's 250-man raid, pleding all state resources to maintenance "of law and order."

State police and Kalamazoo county deputies joined local police in patrolling the area—where a dozen cars were overturned, plant windows smashed, non-strikers were beaten and factory machinery was damaged.

The factories involved are the Shakespeare Products Co., and the Shakespeare company, fishing tackle manufacturers and auto parts.

The CIO called a strike September 7 to enforce demands for contract changes. A wage issue is not an issue.

Order Liquor Places Closed

The Michigan Liquor commission, acting at the request of State police, ordered all liquor-dispenssing establishments—including private clubs—closed as a further safeguard against mob violence.

Governor Sigler and State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard ordered every precaution against a new uprising when they made a hurried flight to Kalamazoo from Lansing and surveyed the destruction.

The raiders bore down on the

Frew Mill Road Home Damaged By Fire Wednesday

Quick Work Of Slippery Rock Township Firemen Saves Two-Family Dwelling

Slippery Rock Township Volunteer Fire Department was called to the Frew Mill road section in the vicinity of the Pump Station on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock to combat a fire which had started in the frame dwelling owned by Howard Forbes.

The six room frame house is occupied by the two families of Frank and Russell Vogan. The fire started from an electric hot plate located in a second floor kitchen in the apartment of the Frank Vogan's.

Firemen were able to save the home and contents from complete destruction due to the fact that they were able to hook their suction pump to a well nearby which supplied ample water to extinguish the blaze. Furniture in the home was removed to safety and the damages which amounted to $500 were confined to the home. The loss is covered by insurance it is reported.

Harry Leathers, fire chief for the Slippery Rock Department, stated that only the quick action of the occupants of the dwelling in calling the fire department saved the home from complete destruction.

Berlin Airlift Flights Resume

FRANKFURT, Dec. 2.—(INS)—U. S. Berlin airlift operations resumed today after heavy fog which grounded planes for two days lifted slightly.

Both the Tempelhof and Gatow airfields in Berlin were in operation, despite low ceilings.

Divorce Mill Probe Widens In New York

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—(INS)—The New York City Bar Association today pledged full support of District Attorney Frank S. Hogan's probe of the city's divorce-mill racket.

Paul B. De Witt, Bar Association executive secretary, emphasized that legislation to "remedy some of the evils" that go hand-in-glove with divorce mills has been sought since 1945.

De Witt said that the association wanted to eliminate "what has come to be recognized as a scandal growing out of widespread fraud, perjury and collusion."

Examine Past Divorce Suits

Meanwhile the probe widened with the New York State Supreme Court decision to permit the district attorney to examine past divorce suits.

Two more unidentified women who acted as the "lady friend" of divorce-seeking husbands were questioned by the district attorney.

Flying Huntsmen Spot Deer From Air At Plaingrove

Modern airplane is responsible for the death of at least one deer in Lawrence county, it has been reported.

Two local hunters, who have been making use of a Cesna two-engine plane for their hunting trips to the big game country were returning Wednesday afternoon from their successful mission to Marionville, Pa., when flying over Plaingrove they spotted two nice size bucks wandering around.

Landing their plane at the New Castle airport, the flyers, Joseph Gargasz of 314 Northview avenue, and William Boalick of R. D. 5, climbed into an automobile and drove back to the spot where they had sighted the animals from the air a few minutes previously.

They found one of the deer still there on the game lands right in Pulaski, and careful aim brought down a fine nine-point 215-pound buck. Mr. Gargasz has the rack of the buck on display at his shop at 1019 Moravia street.

Madame Chiang Ready To Plead For Aid To China

Expected To Appear Before Several Committees Of Congress Soon

NOT IN U. S. NOW AS OFFICIAL GUEST

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—United States officials reportedly are anxious today to offset the "cool" reception received by Madame Chiang Kai-Shek on her arrival in Washington to plead for aid to China.

Round Of Appearances

Officials are said to be preparing a modest round of official appearances for the wife of Generalissimo Chiang which will erase the suggestion that she is being slighted.

It is equally clear, however, that the first lady of China cannot expect the same state reception that she did in 1943 when she lodged an impassioned personal plea before congress for American help.

At that time, the war in Europe was growing in intensity Concentration on the European theater was a lively matter of political debate. Madame Chiang, a White House guest, espoused the cause of the Pacific war exponents.

Position Not Much Changed

Just now her position is not seriously changed. The administration believes that, as it did then, that the European battlefield had first priority. The Far East, it was felt, could wait.

But for the tiny first lady of China, the situation is one of equal tragedy for her country. Serious reverses being given the Chinese Nationalists by the Communists causes her to see her homeland overrun. Even before she returns to her country, she may find that the capital has moved from Nanking where she left it.

While officials are adamant in their decision of regarding Europe as having first priority, they have not abandoned China completely.

While the present visit of Madame Chiang is not as widely publicized as was her 1943 visit, officials explain that her position now is entirely different.

Was Official Guest

In 1943, she was the official guest

The small arrow points to the cab window through which Dyer crawled with his clothes afire. The long arrow indicates the path taken by another truck involved in the accident. In the lower right corner of the photo is seen the load of coal spilled from the Dyer truck.

Lester Dyer, aged 30 years, of Fredonia, Pa., suffered third degree burns, of the hands, and legs, and first and second degree burns of the face, when a truck he was driving, overturned and caught fire opposite the Y.M.C.A. camp road, on the Slippery Rock-Harlansburg road, Wednesday afternoon about 3:30 o'clock. Dyer was brought to the Jameson Memorial Hospital by passing motorists, and is reported in a critical condition there today.

Dyer, it is stated, was following

New Demands By Coal Miners Being Hinted

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—(INS)—A spokesman for John L. Lewis hinted strongly today that the nation's coal miners will seek a six-hour day and a 30-hour work week in their 1949 contract negotiations.

William Blizzard, president of the West Virginia district of the United Mine Workers Union threw out the hint during the fifteenth annual conference on State Labor legislation.

Blizzard opposed a section of the conference's wage-hour report which endorsed only the eight-hour day and the 40-hour work week. He said:

"It is not logical to handicap our great labor movement by going on record for a work week we think is too long in a lot of industries, particularly coal mining.

SAYS TRUMAN MADE HOME RUN WITH BASES FULL

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—President Truman received a personal message from Gen. Douglas MacArthur today congratulating him on his "home run with the bases full" in the election.

The congratulations were conveyed by Joseph B. Keenan, chief prosecutor at the Japanese war crimes trial, who was a White House visitor.

Keenan said MacArthur asked him to give Mr. Truman this message:

"The president hit the pill with the bases full for a home run."

Keenan told newsmen that Mr. Truman understood and enjoyed the phrase.

Major Step On Settlement Of Palestine Issue

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Dec. 2.—The United Nations took a major step toward settlement of the Palestine problem today by creating a three-power conciliator commission to draft solution of all disputed issues.

By a vote of 25 to 16, the political committee adopted a key paragraph in a British resolution setting up the conciliation body.

The Soviet bloc and the Arab states voted against.

Seventeen nations abstained.

The vote on this crucial clause in the British resolution followed a warning by Israel that it may not cooperate with U. N. peace efforts if Anglo-American proposals that it yield either part of the Negev or western Galilee are adopted.

Dr. Phillip C. Jessup, U. S. delegate, supported Israel's plea for urgent consideration of her application for membership to the U. N.

Pacific Security Pact Is Discussed

Possible Creation Of U.S.-Britain And France Pact Is Under Discussion

PARIS, Dec. 2.—(INS)—United States officials are discussing the possible creation of a Pacific security pact with France and Britain to stem the rising tide om communism in Asia.

Reliable sources disclosed today to International News Service that the discussions were initiated by the two European states, both of whom have large colonial empires in southeast Asia.

It was said that the view prevails in high British quarters particularly that unless the triumphal march of communists across China is stopped, all of Asia will fall under Soviet domination.

The success of the Chinese communists is already having an effect in French Indo-China, the Dutch East Indies, and British Malaya. In Burma, communists have been battling for months. Siamese leaders are known to feel that their country is now more seriously threatened by communists than at any time in recent history.

Israeli Hopes Face Defeat

Indications Request For U. N. Recognition Will Be Defeated

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Dec. 2.—Israel warned today that it may not cooperate with the United Nations if Anglo-American proposals that it yield either part of the Negev or western Galilee are adopted.

The warning was issued by Israeli Foreign Minister Moshe Shertok to the U. N. political committee as Israeli hopes of becoming the 59th U. N. member state faced seeming certain defeat in the security council. Shertok told the political committee that the British-sponsored, U. S.-backed resolution would compel Israel to accept an unsatisfactory settlement. He declared:

"Israeli would find it difficult to cooperate."

The new Anglo-American Holy Land policy demands, in effect, that Israel give up either part of the Negev or all of western Galilee. It proposes to set up a conciliation commission which would decide Israel's boundaries within this policy.

Shertok argued that the commission should "be true to its name" by seeking only agreement between Arabs and Jews, allowing them to work out the borders of the Jewish and Arab states.

Berlin 'Rump' Council Meets

Communist - Backed Body Has Meeting In Secret Session

BERLIN, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Berlin communists launched a "nerve war" today to prevent Germans from registering their disgust at Soviet-sponsored splitting of the city in Sunday's elections.

Soviet agents spread a sinister whispering campaign, featuring threats of future reprisals and violence against Berliners who vote in the secret-ballot polling ordered by the legal city government and backed by the western powers.

Berlin residents are being told that when the Russians take over all of the city at some future date, all those who voted in Sunday's election will feel communist wrath.

Street Riot Rumors

At the same time rumors of street riots are circulating. All are obviously designed to frighten Germans from the polls.

United States officials said that the Soviets are increasingly afraid that a giant turnout of voters Sunday will offer incontrovertible proof that the German population opposed communist policies.

Meanwhile, the legal city assem-

Battle In China Moves Closer To Nanking Area

Communist Forces Drive Into Sector Only 100 Miles From Nanking

FALL OF SUCHOW IS VIRTUALLY ADMITTED

(BULLETIN)

NANKING, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Capture of the important hub city of Suchow, 200 miles north of Nanking, was claimed late tonight by Chinese Communist forces.

A Communist broadcast heard in Nanking reported Red troops occupied the important Nationalist base on the Tientsin-Pukow railway at 10 p. m. Thursday.

NANKING, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Gunfire became audible in Pengpu today when Communist forces drove within reach of that last major outpost above Nanking in a mammoth battle involving some 750,000 troops.

The vast struggle for China's heart surged into a sector only 100 miles from the capital as the government admitted the virtual fall of the great rail and arms center of Suchow, farther north.

Some 400,000 of the government's finest remaining troops were trapped and fighting desperately to escape from two Communist pockets—one immediately below Suchow and the other in the Suhsien-Kuchen area, closer to Nanking.

Throw In New Armies

(In North China, meanwhile, the Communists were reported in a Reuters dispatch to have thrown three new armies into a fresh of-

Freight Cars Leave Rails; Wreck House

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 2—(INS)—Two cars of a Reading Company freight train left the track in central Philadelphia today and wrecked an unoccupied, three-story brick house.

Three of the home's walls were caved in and tons of brick and debris rained down on the derailed carriers.

Four persons living next door were thrown from their beds and taken to Hahnemann hospital with slight injuries. They said they thought an earthquake hit the place.

Police said the rear trucks of the eighth car and the front trucks of the ninth car left the tracks, and formed a crude v-shaped wedge.

The hurtling cars plowed up 20 feet of the cobble-stoned pavement before crashing into the house.

It was decided not to move the wrecked cars pending a thorough inspection since removal might cause collapse of the adjacent home.

A.M.A. Rejects Proposal For Insurance Co.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 2.—(INS)—The American Medical association has rejected a proposal for establishment of a national insurance company for voluntary, prepaid medical and hospital care.

The action was announced at the association's interim meeting in St. Louis and was taken by the A. M. A. house of delegates.

Formation of such a company had been urged as a possible answer to proposed compulsory federal health insurance. The A. M. A. had been asked merely to indorse and not to set up the proposed national insurance company.

Blue Cross, a hospitalization group, and Blue Shield, a medical care group, it was said, wanted to merge into one company to insure payments for both medical and hospital fees.

The A. M. A. house of delegates, however, approved a substitute plan. This would form a "national enrollment agency" to co-ordinate all existing approved medical and hospital care plans.

Record Price Paid For Champion Steer

CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—(INS)—An all-time record price of $10.75 a pound—or $12,900—was paid today for the grand champion steer of the 49th International Livestock Exposition.

The 1,200-pound coal black Aberdeen-Angus titleholder, "Old Gold" was bought by Pfaelzer Brothers, Chicago meat purveyors, for the Shamrock hotel in Houston, Tex.

The price paid for the grand champion, owned by C. E. Yoder and Sons, of Muscatine, Ia., exceeded by 25 cents a pound the former mark which has stood for two years. The 1947 champion, "Big Boy", brought only $8 a pound.

Today, the state department explains, she is here in a private capacity.

If she sees President Truman, it may not be before next week. The president is going to Hampton Roads, Va., this weekend for a ceremony monoring the Battleship U. S. S. Missouri. He leaves tomorrow morning.

Since congress is not in session, there is no sounding board for the several committees.

The congressional foreign aid "watchdog" committee meets tomorrow and is expected to invite Madame Chiang to appear behind closed doors.

At the same time, Sen. Connally (D) Tex., incoming chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, said that group probably would hear her "in private" if she asks to appear.

He had to crawl through a small window of the cab of the truck, but not before he was critically burned. He extinguished his burning clothing by plunging into a small stream there.

The truck operated by Guarnieri stayed on its wheels and went down into the bed of the stream. It was not badly damaged, but the loss on the truck driven by Dyer was said to have been near $4,000.

fensive aimed at the inner Mongolian capital of Kalgan, northwest of Peiping.)

Despite the increasing peril to Nanking, the Chinese government informed all foreign envoys it does not intend to quit the capital.

The foreign ambassadors and ministers advised the Nationalist regime they intend to remain in Nanking. Lesser ranking diplomats and their families, however, were offered facilities to flee to safety.

China's crisis deepened as pro-government dispatches said gunfire already was audible in Pengpu, the last major junction above the capital on the Tientsin-Pukuw railroad. Pukuw lies on the Yangtze's north bank directly opposite Nanking.

Immediately north of Pengpu, violent fighting raged along the Kuo (Kwai) river as seven huge Communist columns under command of Gen. Chen Yi attacked from the northeast. Earlier, the Nationalists claimed to have repulsed an initial Red effort to cross the winding Kuo.

A government military spokesman in Nanking virtually admitted the loss of Suchow, great communications and arsenal centers situated 175 miles northwest of the capital. A quarter of a million Nationalist troops bottled up in the sector tried vainly to break out of the trap.

Seventy miles southeast of Suchow, an estimated 150,000 government troops of Gen. Huang Wei's 12th army group also were trapped between Kuchen and Suhsien.

The Nationalist military spokesman said these forces were engaging 140,000 Communist troops under one-eyed Gen. Liu Po-Cheng in a desperate struggle to crack the Red ring.

Fall Of Suchow Seen

The spokesman predicted a "decisive development" with five days in the fighting in the Suhsien-Kuchen sector which he called the "main theater" of the widespread battle in its present stage.

The fall of Suchow, where the Communists launched their central China offensive three weeks ago, was indicated by the spokesman when he said:

"As the battle of Suchow has drawn to an end, the city has lost its strategic importance, especially inasmuch as all government units in that area have been concentrated for a southward advance."

The spokesman said a "small number" of government troops had been left inside Suchow, apparently for the purpose of waging rear-guard actions to impede Communist occupation of that city.

However, pilots of planes that flew over Suchow yesterday said they saw no Nationalist troops in the city. The Suchow airport, east of the city limits, was no longer in use.

The official military spokesman disclosed that Gen. Liu Chih, commander in chief of the Nationalist armies on the Suchow front, had flown to Penkpu where, presumably, he will direct defense of the immediate approaches to the Yangtze Valley.

Six persons already have been arrested in the crackdown, and the status of many divorces have been thrown into doubt.

Hogan said earlier he intended to scrutinize divorces ruled on in the past two years, but the supreme court removed all time limitations.

Assistant District Attorney Charles A. McDonough declared, however, that the investigators probably will examine records filed during the past five years only. Some 22,000 decrees were granted in that time.

McDonough, who applied for the court order, told the court that the probe has uncovered evidence of "various felonies and misdemeanors."

THEY HAVE EYES ON THE FUTURE!

TWO YOUNG MEN who really are looking ahead are George Harvey (left), 28, of Iron Mountain, Mich., and Ralph Tate, Jr., 27, of New York, both students at Michigan State college in East Lansing. They're not strangers, having been two of 12 Americans who crash-landed an Army transport high in the Swiss Alps two years ago—and lived to write a book about it. They were in the headlines then and now plan to be again—600 years from now. Experts estimate it will take that long for the wreckage of their plane to be carried to the bottom of the glacier in which it is buried. Newly planted in it is a time capsule containing a record of the five days and nights of their ordeal and a copy of their book. That's how they expect to hit the headlines again—in the year 2548. Wesley McCrumb and son, Chester, 17, of Highland Heights, were late reporting to The News that they each bagged a dear Monday morning before 7:45. The father, big game hunting for the first time in 18 years, got a six-point buck, and the son's prize had one more point. The deer were killed near Sandy Lake.

bly gathered to consider its next move in the current "state of emergency" decreed yesterday. It was thought that until the Soviet-backed rump government takes definite action against legal officials, nothing can be done but ignore it.

Draft Currency Plans

Western currency experts were drafting plans to make the west's Deutsche mark the sole legal tender in the allied sectors of Berlin. While this still further lessens chances of a compromise on the currency deadlock, it was forced on the west by Soviet action in sponsoring the new puppet administration.

The legal government is now unable to get eastern marks, with which is has been paying employes, and must turn to the west for currency.

Armed pro-communists yesterday invaded the western sectors in an attempt to break up an election rally of the anti-communist Christian Democratic party (SPD). Ten persons were arrested in the clash.

The "nerve war" rumors said that the communist street-fighting was only the prelude of more intense fighting which will come with the approach of the elections.

plants in 30 cars, moving three abreast in tank formation, and systematically carried out their riotous mission in slightly less than an hour and a half:

Beat Up Workers

Police said many invaded the plants and beat up workers who failed to join the United Steel Workers-CIO strike called last September 7. They turned their wrath on machinery and company officials have been unable as yet to estimate the damage they inflicted.

Kalamazoo Police Chief Howard W. Hoyt said most of the rioters wore CIO lapel pins and most of their cars bore license plates with pre-fixes issued in Detroit and Wayne county. Some reportedly were from as far away as Indiana.

A list of license numbers recorded by local police have been sent to Lansing to be traced. Authorities will trace ownership of many of the invading cars in this manner and the grand jury then will go to work.

RELIEF PAYMENTS

HARRISBURG — Ramsey S. Black, state treasurer, announced that direct relief payments to needy Pennsylvanians during the week ended Wednesday, November 17, 1948 totaled $318,482 written in 26,543 checks.

SYLVESTER-SMITH CHURCH WEDDING

At one of the lovliest of the late fall weddings, Miss Dorothy Sylvester, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Sylvester, of East Brook road, became the bride of Walter Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Smith, of 1017 West North street, Saturday morning, November 27, at 9 o'clock in St. Joseph's church. Palms and lighted candelbra banked the altar.

Vows were exchanged before a large gathering of guests with Rev. John M. Unger officiating at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a gown of shimmering ivory duchess satin fashioned off-the-shoulder below a marquisette yoke encrusted with tiny seed pearls and ceylon beads in an English plum design. The full skirt fell in soft folds into a circular train. Her fingertip veil fell from a satin bonnet trimmed with seed pearl embroidery and she carried a spray of white carnations centered with an orchid. Her only jewelry was a platinum cross.

Miss Dorothy Jackamo, as her maid of honor, wore a yellow tissue taffeta gown with a draped inset in the bodice below the off-the-shoulder neckline and a large bustle bow in back. She carried an arm spray of bronze and yellow 'mums.

Tony Gennock served the groom as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony there was a wedding breakfast for the immediate families at the home of the bride's parents. In the afternoon a wedding dinner was served to 75 guests at a local dining room where later there was a reception for over 400 guests.

The newlyweds left on a wedding trip by car to Washington, D. C., Miami, Fla., and Cuba and upon their return they will be at home in their newly furnished apartment at 1111 Croton avenue.

Mrs. Smith, who is a graduate of New Castle high school, is employed at Sylvester's Dairy as bookkeeper and Mr. Smith, also a graduate of New Castle high school, is employed at Sylvester's Dairy plant.

ROUND-UP CLUB TO HAVE DINNER

UMSTEAD-PITZER QUIET CEREMONY

At a quiet but impressive ceremony, Wednesday evening, December 1, in the Second U. P. church, Miss Rosalie L. Umstead, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse V. Umstead, of Volant, R. D. 3, became the bride of Donald C. Pitzer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton S. Pitzer, of 10 E. North street. The couple exchanged vows at 7 o'clock in the presence of the immediatt families and a few close friends. Rev. J. Calvin Rose officiated at the single ring ceremony.

The bride was charming in a blue street length dress and a shoulder corsage of pink rose buds.

Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Edith Umstead, who wore a black and white street length dress and a shoulder corsage of red rose buds.

Edward Anderson served the groom as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony there was a reception at the home of the groom's parents.

The newly weds will take up residence on Winslow avenue.

Mr. Pitzer is employed at the Fisher Bros. Store.

RAINBOW GIRLS PLAN ACTIVITIES

At the semi-monthly meeting of New Castle Assembly, Order of the Rainbow for Girls, presided over by Worthy Advisor Jacqueline Mitchell and Mother Advisor Mrs. William J. Whieldon, plans for a number of activities were completed. The meeting was held in the east lodge room of the Cathedral last evening.

Plans were outlined for the Tuberculosis society bangle sale, which will be conducted again by the girls on next Saturday, December 4.

It was announced that the annual Christmas party of the assembly will take place on Wednesday evening, December 15, when the party will be preceded by the initiation of a large class of candidates. An exchange of gifts will take place at the party.

The annual Christmas dance of the assembly will be held on Christmas night with Mrs. L. A. Wygant, chairman from the board, and Muriel Van Dyke, general chairman, with Janet Lindsey, co-chairman; tickets will be in charge of Jean Loudon and decorations in charge of Alice May Lewis.

SHAFFER-GUNTHER ENGAGEMENT TOLD

Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Shaffer, of 332 Harding street, announce the engagement of their daughter, EmmaBelle Shaffer, and Albert J. Gunther, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gunther, of the Harlansburg road.

The engagement will terminate in an early spring wedding.

J. M. C. FETES RECENT BRIDE

Members of the J. M. C. club honored one of their members, Mrs. William Hague, a bride of November 6, when they gathered in the home of Mrs. Sam Hogue, of 714 N. Mercer street, Wednesday evening.

The evening was spent in an informal social time with Mrs. Herman Decker capturing the prize.

A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Vance Montgomery and Mrs. John Gaston, at a prettily appointed table with a center piece of baby mums and at each place was a miniature bride serving as favors.

At the close of the evening the honoree was presented with a lovely gift of silver from the club.

N. N. Club Meeting

Mrs. Frank Sargent, of Neshannock avenue, entertained members of the N. N. club in her home Tuesday evening.

Five hundred was the diversion of the evening, with prizes going to Mrs. Earl White, Mrs. James Bell and Mrs. R. A. Jordon. A delicious lunch was served at the close of the evening by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. James Snyder.

Mrs. R. W. McKee, of Jackson avenue, will entertain the club, Tuesday evening, December 7.

Friendly Relations

Mrs. Michael Gennaula, of 805 Emerson avenue, opened her home to members of the Friendly Relations club, Wednesday evening.

Card playing was the main pastime, with prizes going to Mrs. Thomas Pagley and Mrs. Frank Cozza.

At the close of the social hour, the hostess served a dainty lunch, aided by Mrs. Angelo Mooney.

On December 16, the club will meet with Mrs. Harlan Mone, Old Pittsburgh road, and an exchange will be held.

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA ALUMNAE GUESTS

Alpha Gamma Delta sorority, Alpha Epsilon alumnae chapter, was entertained for a social evening on Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Norman P. Nelson, 8 East Moody avenue, with Mrs. William L. Klee, Mrs. Ralph A. Cooper and Mrs. Floyd Whitman as co-hostesses.

Following an informal time, a lunch was served.

New members welcomed into the chapter this year are Mrs. Stewart Jones, nee Mary Esther Coates; Mrs. Joseph A. Hartman, Jr., nee Elizabeth Ann Burton, and Miss Janice Lago of Bessemer.

Next meeting will be on January 24 in the home of Mrs. Robert G. Dickson, 301 Sheridan avenue, when an auction among the members will be the feature of entertainment for the evening.

HOLY CROSS CHURCH SCENE OF WEDDING

Holy Cross church was the scene of a lovely wedding ceremony on Saturday morning, November 27 at 9 a.m., when Miss Esther Butera, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph LaTona of West Pittsburg, became the bride of George J. Tonsetic, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Tonsetic also of West Pittsburg.

Rev. Fr. S. Beck officiated at the ceremony in the presence of a gathering of friends and relatives.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white slipper satin, en train, with a high neckline outlined with rhinestones. Her full length veil of French illusion was held in place with a crown of seed pearls and rhinestones and was edged in Chantilly lace. She carried a prayer book with an orchid marker.

As maid of honor, Miss Elizabeth DeGenova wore a gown of gold colored taffeta with a shirred bodice and short puff sleeves, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline. Her headdress was a shirred bonnet of the same material as her gown and she wore matching mitts, and carried a prayer book centered with an orchid.

Bridesmaids, the Misses Marie Carangi, Mary Allegro, Mary Jane Patsy and Esther Tumminelli wore gowns of lime green satin with fitted bodices and full skirts. They wore half hats with a small brim trimmed with ostrich feathers of the same shade and wore matching mitts. Each carried a prayer book and an orchid.

John Marcantino served the groom as best man and ushers were Tony Tonsetic, Francis Bannon, John Vitril and James Papa.

Roy J. Papa sang "Mother Beloved" while the bride-to-be made a presentation of a bouquet of white carnations to the statue of the Blessed Virgin. Nuptial music was played by Mrs. W. R. Aloe.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the Diaz Hall and at 1:30 dinner was served to 60 guests. In the evening at 8 o'clock there was a reception for 200 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Tonsetic left by car for Philadelphia and points east. They will take up housekeeping in their newly furnished home on 11th street, West Pittsburg, upon their return.

L. O. Q. Club

Mrs. Floyd Semione of Division street, received the L. O. Q. club, Wednesday evening, and plans were made for a Christmas party. It will be held in the home of Mrs. Antoinette Francazio on December 14.

In charge of the event will be Mrs. Francazio and Mrs. Clotilda Ross. Crocheting was the pastime, and later a delicious lunch was served with Mrs. Angeline Frasso aiding the hostess.

January 5, is the next meeting with Mrs. Clotilda Ross, Lutton street.

Chrysolite Club

Members of the Chrysolite club met Wednesday evening in the Unione Calabro club, with Mrs. John Fuleno as hostess.

Card playing was the pastime, high score prizes falling to Mrs. Anthony Fuleno, Mrs. Anthony Fair, Mrs. John DeSantis and Mrs. William Cubellis.

Plans were made for a Christmas party to be held on December 15, in the Unione Calabro club.

SPORTSMANSHIP IS GOOD MANNERS

The tumult and the shouting over the victory of the New Castle high school team in the WPIAL championship battle is about done. Throats are returning to normal and life has returned to a more regular routine.

But in the flush of victory it might not be a bad idea if we examined our sportsmanship here in New Castle. The record in the past few years is not too good. An opposing football player nearly blinded in an eye with a pellet shot out upon the field, the bus of a visiting basketball team wrecked, the goal posts in Pitt stadium torn down with four full playing minutes remaining in the game and finally, a lot of damage done local merchants under the guise of exubeance after a game.

It's not a pretty record. Not one of which we can be proud. Perhaps the pellet shooting can be excused in part due to the youth of the offender. But the bus was stripped by young men who should have known better, the goal posts were ripped out by a group of adults and younger-men, and the damage was done by young men and women.

Sportsmanship includes good manners, and good manners never condone vandalism of any kind. Taking out the goal posts is an old custom of course, but not while the game is in progress. It might easily have cost us the victory.

A year ago New Castle played Bethlehem and the fans of Bethlehem displayed a brand of sportsmanship that could well be copied by a lot of other cities including our own. They were sportsmen in defeat which is the test after all.

This is not to suggest that New Castle fans for the most part, lack good sportsmanship. It is only to point out that a few offenders against good taste can color the complexion of a whole city.

THERE'S A LIMIT

Entrusted as it [illegible] with the task of defending the country against all possible contingencies and unforeseeable emergencies, the military establishment never has been modest in its demands on the United States Treasury. But in asking for $23,000,000,000 for the next fiscal year it seeks a proportion of the nation's resources that is entirely out of line with the country's ability to pay.

President Truman senses this fact and has ordered that the military budget be cut to $14,400,000,000. Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, his economic adviser, is no less fearful of the effect upon America of giving the armed forces what they want. To grant their request, he says—or to give them much more than the $13,000,000,000 they are spending this year—would send the inflation spiral spinning upward and result in the imposition upon the country of all sorts of controls.

This, no doubt, will be the judgment not only of bankers and economists but of those who have even a moderate understanding of national finances. Except in the case of an actual war for survival, when naturally no sacrifice is too great to endure, this country cannot afford to devote so much of its substance to military preparedness that the civilian economy is unable to function.

Every billion dollars spent on defense is that much more money in circulation, accompanied by greater shortage of labor and consumer goods and of course the unleasing of inflationary forces. All Americans want their country to be safe from military attack. But they want it to keep from blowing up from within.

"POLITE LEARNING"

President Dodds of Princeton is worried because fewer college students than formerly are interested in the humanities. ("Polite learning, esp. the ancient classics"—Webster) More of them are turning to science.

This, Dr. Dodds thinks, is a real tragedy. "So many young people are missing the opportunity for education in the human values which no other disciplines provide." Princeton, he says, will reverse the trend if it can.

A quarter century ago, according to figures cited by Dr. Dodds, 44 per cent of Princeton sophomores were concentrating on the humanities. Today only 24 per cent are. Meanwhile the proportion concentrating on the natural sciences has jumped from 12 to 21 per cent, on the social sciences from 44 to 55 per cent.

Perhaps the students are merely being realistic. The world does not seem to belong, nowadays, to those reared on the disciplines of polite learning. The natural and social scientists are comparatively young. In general they do not profess to know the answers so well as more ancient writers, who failed to save their own civilizations, claimed to know them. They are groping their way forward to new truths—or to that which will be accepted as truth for a brief period—not yearning backward to old ones.

Certainly the sciences do not, as Dr. Dodds seems to imply, ignore human values. One of these is psychology, and another is sociology. Most of the others seek knowledge capable of contributing to the enrichment of human life.

There is certainly room for doubt that the new values are better, but there is at least one thing to be said for them: They are vigorous and alive, and in them there is room for hope.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

The son of the man who once saved Germany from communism is now Soviet Russia's hand-picked communist-backed mayor of Berlin.

In one of those political quirks which always have made middle Europe an enigma, leadership of the new "rump" government set up by the communists to further their policy of conquest by confusion went to Fritz Ebert.

To those who followed the fortunes of Germany during the first world war the name is highly familiar.

Father Friedrich Ebert

The new mayor's father was Friedrich Ebert, first president of the German republic established at Weimar in 1919—the republic that Adolph Hitler shattered in his first move to build a new Reich that was doomed to destruction from its birth

Fritz Ebert is 54. Ostensibly he is not a communist but a member of the Christian Democratic Union. But he is president of the Brandenburg state parliament, which is dominated by communists and his acceptance of the Berlin mayoralty is regarded as mere window-dressing for the red front.

No contrast could be sharper than there is between this collaboration and the bitter fight Friedrich Ebert waged to save his Germany from bolshevism in an earlier time of strain and stress in the wake of the first world war and Germany's humiliating defeat.

Of Humble Origin

The elder Ebert was of humble origin, the son of a poor tailor in the university town of Heidelberg.

His own trade was that of saddler before he became interested in politics and was elected a deputy to the German Reichstag.

Eberts' expansive ability to hold political factions together made him invaluable in the dying days of the German empire.

Prince Max of Baden called him in when Kaiser Wilhelm abdicated. When Germany's military collapse came and hunger, disillusion and violence stalked the country, it was touch and go whether communism would triumph.

As chancellor, the elder Ebert fought with all the strength at his command against the political maneuvers of Karl Liebkneckt and Rosa Luxemburg who led the German communists. His efforts were rewarded when the convention at Weimar drafted a constitution, created a republic and named Ebert provisional president.

All He Wanted

This was all the elder Ebert wanted. He tried to get the country into shape for a national presidential election but in this he failed and reluctantly consented to act as chief executive until 1925. In that year he died. And by that time, Hitler had begun his slow upward climb. Hitler hated Ebert and his Weimar regime just as much as Ebert hated communism.

Politics in Germany always have been of a very positive character, much as in France, where a creed of liberalism or conservatism is inborn. Only infrequently is the chain of connection broken between father and son.

There is no question that the present-day Ebert has placed himself in an unenviable position. He may say he is not a communist, but he can hardly condemn any communist action to which the western allies that are striving to rehabilitate Germany are staunchly opposed.

Looking At Life

Do you remember that epidemic of a few months ago when women all over the country offered their sweet selves in marriage to men with $10,000 or more or less?

Apparently the thing petered out as quickly as it spread and, according to my latest advices, those dear ladies have gotten off their high horses and are now willing to find husbands the regular way—by promising something in return for what they are getting and by being satisfied with the kind of men they deserve.

I am glad that epidemic is over and I sincerely hope that another one is not on the way.

I am just a little afraid that it might be, though, after reading a recent dispatch from Cincinnati.

According to this dispatch a 25-year-old Covington, Ky., psychology student offered to marry any woman in the United States who has $100,000.

I do hope that this young fellow is making the offer only as a gag, although don't you ever think that there aren't lots of men in this country, who for reasons known only to themselves, consider themselves worth all kinds of money in the matrimonial market.

With the dispatch about this fellow from Cincinnati came his picture.

A very ordinary looking chap who wouldn't remind even the most romantic youngster of any motion-picture actor.

His physical appeal, in my estimation and that of several women to whom I showed his picture, wouldn't even get him fifty cents, let alone $100,000.

When asked to say something about himself and why he considered himself worth so much, he is said to have replied:

"It makes absolutely no difference about me—the main thing is the money."

He stated that he needed the money "to complete my education and establish myself in business."

Will he get his $100,000? Will any woman be foolish and husband hungry enough to fall for this sort of offer?

I don't know. I hope not. But, people being as they are, Herb Shriner would say "It's possible."

Let me quote an item from one of today's newspapers.

It has nothing to do with what I said above. But it will end this column on a note much more typical of America than those about the marriage market.

Pat O'Brien, the beloved movie actor, recently celebrated his 49th birthday. He and his wife were stopping at the Sherry-Netherland in New York.

He received hundreds of messages and presents from all over the country and from very important people.

But the one that touched him most, and which he is still carrying in his pocket, read like this:

"A little bird told us that this is your birthday. May we all wish you the best ever? The telephone operators and the bellboys."

The Parent Problem

A SNACK BETWEEN MEAL-TIMES

"If you eat that now you won't want anything for dinner," or words to that effect, I have heard from the earliest time I can remember. But I can't remember the time when eating food really diminished my appetite at regular mealtime. It looks as if I was born with a good appetite, which I have never lost. It's not appetite but my weight that I watch. And I've seen other hungry children, especially on coming home from school, whose enjoyment of a snack didn't harm their dinner appetite.

But judging from direct observations of many growing children under five or six over some years and from remarks I have heard and letters I have read, from mothers, I infer that a great many children don't eat hearty meals because they have eaten between meals. Only last summer, while three of our grandchildren were with us, I noticed on several occasions that when the older ones, 6 and 4, ate without enthusiasm or ate but little at the eevning meal, a question from their mother revealed that they had had something to eat at the neighbor's home that afternoon.. Now what children get between meals is usually highly concentrated food, as candies, cookies, cake or bread and jam.

Worse Problem

No matter how hard you try to keep your child from eating between meals you can't easily get your neighbors to cooperate. It's often a worse problem with grandparents who live near.

In the first place, your neighbors may not have given any thought to the desirability of not having their young children "piece" between meals, or these neighbors may not have the heart to say 'No' to the child when he begs for food. Properly, they do not want their children to enjoy food between meals in the presence of their playmates without providing the playmates with the same kind of food. These parents might like to tell their children to share at such times but the fact usually is that their own children don't give up anything at all. The parents just serve more food.

Several Playmates

A certain mother writes to know what she should do in this type of case: When she gives her tot, three, some bread and jam, there are several of his playmates standing around expecting some bread and jam, too; or her child goes out with a "piece" and comes back begging for a "piece" for each of more hungry children outside. Their mother was thinking of the inconvenience and cost and not the wishes of the other mothers represented by these children.

As I wrote this mother, if she were sure she wishes to continue giving her tot "pieces" between meals she might consider so setting the stage that her child would be indoors alone at such times. But this would involve more regulation than some parents would desire. The trend among parents seems to be to give the child what he wants right away when he wants it, when he is two months old, two years old or ten.

You can easily see that year by year, at the present rate, there will be more and more mothers giving

From Me To You

By MESEEALL

The aftermath of the football game of last Saturday at Pitt Stadium is now arriving . . . in the form of damage claims . . . caused by the irresponsible fans who attended the game . . . New Castle fans . . . two hundred and thirty some dollars is the reported claim . . . damage done to the stadium proper. Principal Book of the high school will very shortly receive from the WPIAL officials an itemized statement for these damages . . . which will be published so that all may see just what was done.

We are told by officials of the local schools and confirmed by WPIAL officials . . . that members of the student body were not the destructive ones . . . but a few older persons who evidently attended the game not to see the teams play especially, but to use the occasion for an excuse to celebrate . . . It's odd how thin the veneer of good behavior is on some people . . . a little "spirits" will wash 'em clean in no time.

* * *

This week in the Senior High School . . . everyone has one topic in common . . . it's Courtesy Week . . . it's always a good thing to do a bit of brushing up on courtesies . . . The proper things to do while walking along a sidewalk. Crossing streets . . . how many of we people walk to a corner to make a street crossing . . . Mostly we Jay-walk . . . How many remember that it's not right to walk more than two abreast down a busy sidewalk . . . Sometimes we go along three or four and even five abreast.

How about it men . . . is tipping of the hat old-fashioned? And everyone, is wearing a smile old-fashioned too? And rushing along the sidewalks, bumping into people, not saying a word of apology . . . Everyone would be so much nicer if we could remember and practice the little niceties that we all know that are right.

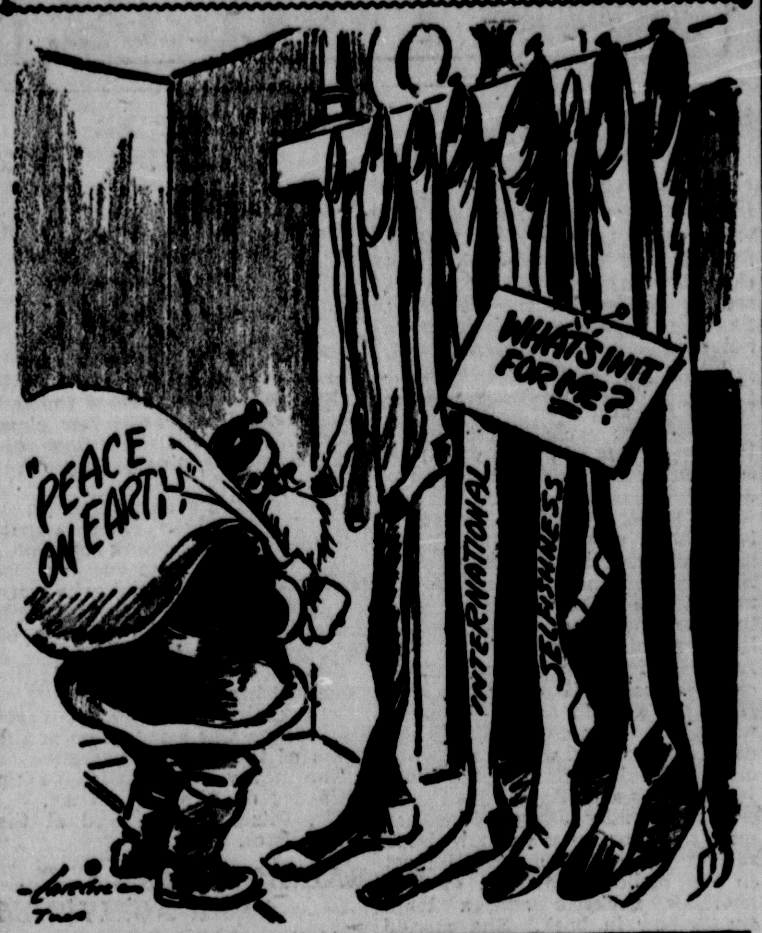
That's what they are doing this week at the High School . . . reminding each other of courtesies . . . A mighty fine idea . . . congratulations to those who thought up the idea and especially to those who follow the ideas.

"Hung By Chimney With Care"



Washington Calling

(By Marquis Childs)

Will Be Heard In Congress

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. — If there were any justice in this cruel world, such things couldn't happen. Former Congressman Roger C. Slaughter of Missouri has been indicted and will be tried for violating the law requiring lobbyists to register and list their employer and the amount of their compensation.

Slaughter says he was not a lobbyist for the grain trade. He was a lawyer paid for his legal services.

This is a fine point. Here in Washington a great many lawyers, some of them graduates of the New Deal, are paid large sums by their clients even though they never go near a courtroom. They are part of the influence industry in the capital, and if the courts hold that Slaughter was actually a lobbyists and not a lawyer, there will be considerable trepidation in certain important law firms.

Aided Truman

But the truly poignant point in the Slaughter case is not legal or technical at all. On the record as it stands, you can make a good case that Slaughter did as much as any single individual to help get President Truman re-elected.

Whether as lawyer or a lobbyist, he was influential in persuading Congress to include a limitation on the powers of the Commodity Credit Corporation to store grain on the farms. This meant that the bountiful grain crop overflowed on the open market, with farmers forced to sell at less than the subsidy price. This fact, hammered home by President Truman in his repeated attacks on the 80th Congress, is believed to have had a greater influence in rural areas than anything else.

While he was elected to Congress in 1942 as a Democrat, Slaughter almost invariably during his two terms voted against the measures sought by the head of his party. His record may have pleased the Kansas City Chamber of Commerce but his opposition angered President Truman, who took a particular interest since Slaughter's district was next door to the one in which the President votes.

In 1946 the President helped to defeat Slaughter in the primary. In the election that followed, a Republican, Albert J. Reeves Jr., in turn defeated the President's man.

Typical Of November 2

What happened there this year is typical of the November 2 revolution. In the Democratic primary an unknown, an amateur, Richard W. Bolling, had routed the Pendergast forces to win the nomination. On November 2 he rolled up the biggest majority in the history of the Fifth district, to swamp Reeves.

Bolling, a Pacific war veteran, was Midwest organizer for Americans for Democratic Action. He made a forthright, hard-hitting Liberal-New Deal campaign.

Bolling is only one of a number of active ADAers who were elected to the new Congress. This Liberal-Labor organization, which was strongly anti-Communist and anti-Wallace during the campaign, will exercise considerable influence in the 81st Congress.

Hubert Humphrey, elected to the Senate from Minnesota, was a national vice-chairman of ADA. Humphrey led Senator Joseph Ball by over 200,000 votes. In St. Paul an active ADAer, Eugene McCarthy, topped his Republican opponent for the House by about 25,000.

In Wisconsin ADA's national political director, Andrew J. Biemiller, was elected to Congress from Milwaukee. He had served a term in Congress from 1944 to '46. Another Wisconsin Democrat, Clement J. Zablocki, was elected with ADA support.

Startling Reversal

One of the most startling reversals was in New Jersey where Charles R. Howell, the first New

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan

Several cases of high blood pressure and insomnia have been traced to tax dodging...Until now high blood pressure had been believed to result from tax paying.

One man couldn't sleep until he had confessed his tax evasions... I hear now he sleeps all night, wakes at five and is out of his cell by six.

But eventually we will have a new type of federal cop; part tax analyst, part psychoanalyst. His job will be to see that you're solvent if not sane.

Of course none will know whether the young fellow starting medical school is going out for a sheepskin or taxpayers.

But it's interesting to know that as many people are sleepless because of their money as the lack of it.

JOBS UPON A TIME

THE SCREEN'S TURHAN BEY was just a soldier of fortune who went to Hollywood on a vacation and stayed to become a movie actor. He was born Turhan Selachettin Schultavy Bey in Vienna, Austria, of Turkish descent. He has been a mercenary soldier, big-game hunter, diplomatic aide and undercover agent. Turhan has been in United States pictures since 1941. He's six feet one inch tall and excels at riding.

ANNE BAXTER started her career on the legitimate stage in Madame Capet, Spring Meeting, and other plays. Anne is said to have decided on an acting career at the ripe age of 11, and never deviated from that course. She made her debut in pictures in 1940. She was born in Michigan City, Ind., and attended a drama school. Anne was tested for a lead in Rebecca, but lost, but the test won her a movie contract, and later pictures. Anne is married to John Hodiak.

TYPED

The visitor was trying to make friends with the young son of the house as he waited for the older sister to finish dressing.

"I think I have met all of your family except your Uncle Henry," he said. "How does he look—I mean which side of the house does he look like?"

The little boy considered. "I guess," he said finally, "the side with the bay window." — Kablegram.

What Do You Want?

By PAUL GALLICO

Did you see that story out of Fayetteville, N. C., about the lucky 19-year-old girl and the fairy Godmother?

Well, it seems that last summer a Miss Martha Culbert of that city was on vacation and noticed an old lady in a hotel lobby who seemed faint. She got her a glass of water and looked after her until she felt better and struck up an acquaintance.

Not long ago a gentleman walked into the music store where Martha is employed and handed her a cheque for $7,500 for "being nice to mother." Then he inquired in the best manner of emissaries from Benevolent Spirits, "Is there anything else you'd like?"

Laughingly, according to the dispatch, the young lady said, "Yes, that piano over there." The gentleman thereupon wrote out a cheque for the piano.

Buys Store Also

"Now," he asked, "anything else? How about the store?"

Martha replied, "Oh yes, I'd love it."

And the tale concludes that on Thanksgiving Eve deeds transferring the store to her name were filed.

At the beginning of this refined and moral essay I noted Miss Culbert as being "lucky," but not for the reason you would suppose. Surely it may be considered good fortune to perform an act of warmth and kindness and be rewarded with cash and goods. But I consider it even luckier that when the moment came that the man stepped out of the fairy story and asked her what she wanted that she really knew.

Everybody, I suppose, could use something that he or she hasn't got, but to be able to know instantly when faced with the question that she wanted not only a piano but an entire music store calls for calmness, self-possession, great presence of mind and knowledge of oneself. Miss Culbert possesses all of these at the tender age of 19, and I congratulate her.

Wouldn't Be Able To Tell

The trouble with most of us is that if suddenly there were a flash of light, a puff of smoke and out of it stepped Titania with a star-tipped wand to ask what we really wanted, we probably wouldn't be able to tell her beyond possibly a few odds and ends, knicknacks and dough.

Come to think of it, I would be on the spot myself. Not that I am rolling in bucks, but looking over my toys I note that I have two elegant bait-casting rods, an adequate deep-sea outfit, a camera, a bag of golf sticks, enough rapiers to stock a road company of "The Three Musketeers," and what more could a man desire? I do not possess a television set but I do not particularly think I want one.

I am without a gas-buggy at the moment and feeling no pain whatsoever. If a genie were suddenly to appear and offer me a brand new 1949 pandromatic transmission, circular wheeled, chrome-special, super-de luxe, Blind-Drive convertible I would tell him to go soak his head, get back in his lamp and not go around interfering in other people's business.

Craves None Of Rewards

When my telephone rings on Sunday night I don't answer it for fear it will be "Stop the Music". There isn't a single item of the expensive junk offered by this philanthropic and educational program that I crave. You can see that I am a very difficult fellow for whom to go Christmas shopping. Yeah, I got one of those cocktail shakers that plays "We Won't Go Home Until Morning" when you pour, and a humidor, a tie rack and a putting game you play on the rug.

There always remains spinach and I suppose a fellow could set his mind so that when and if a friendly kobold pops up out of a manhole and inquires, "What's yours, brother?" you can snap right back at him with, "I'll take a million bucks," except that I don't want a million bucks. I don't want any of the headaches connected with chaperoning that many kopeks. So I'll have a lot of scratch and two weeks later the income tax Johnny moves in with me. What I would really like is for the earth to open up and swallow the Messrs. Stalin, Vishinsky, Molotov and Co., but that's a big order even for a djinn.

State Police Say:

Many drivers of commercial vehicles are operating in violation of the law in that their vehicles are not equipped with red flags and flares. All buses and all trucks registered in the "T" class and over (only class R and class S are exempt) are required to be equipped with three red flags and not less than three flares to be used in case of emergency. Drivers should have matches, a cigarette lighter, etc., to light the flares, as an unlighted signal flare offers no warning to other drivers.

HONEYMOON'S END

The honeymoon over, she opens her eyes
To the fact that he purchases terrible ties,
And the one that he wears she will often assert
Has colors that clash with his coat and his shirt.

The honeymoon over, he closes his eyes
To every new bonnet and dress that she buys.
And, he'll seldom look up from his paper or book
When she enters the room to say: "Lovely you look."

The honeymoon over, the problems begin.
When she wants to go out he will want to stay in.
And when he wants to visit some people they know,
There'll be many a time when she'd rather not go.

There's much through the courtship that neither will see,
Which to both, when they're married, much plainer will be.
But, a little good humor and patience will make
A marriage enduring that nothing can break.

Hints On Etiquette

Do not be a cronic asker of favors, or you may find people avoiding you.

The World and the Mud Puddles

REPETITION OF THE 'NO'

The business of saying "No" at the doing of the United Nations meeting in Paris seemingly has been delegated to Comrade Vishinsky, the Soviet delegate to that meeting. And Vishinsky delicately intimates that Russia also possesses the atomic bomb.

"It is a mistake," Mr. Vishinsky say, "to believe that there is just one State that has a monopoly on the atomic bomb. It is useless to think that. It is fraught with dire consequences and miscalculations."

Nothing would suit Russia's purpose better than to impress upon the world—particularly the United States—that the Soviets have succeeded in producing this terrific weapon. Such an impression would make Russian expansion easier throug greater power of intimidation. It might even cause this country to be more moderate in matters which are war potentials.

Part Of Communist Code

In considering what any representative of Russia states in any meeting of the Powers, the representatives of the United States at any meeting should remember always that one clear part of the Communist Code is never to tell the truth when a lie will serve as well or better. Another thing to remember is whether it is Comrade Vishinsky, or Comrade Molotov or any other Comrade who happens to do the talking, it is just a bluff, for if Russia actually had the A-Bomb in quality and quantity for effective use, she would have use it before this.

We do think that Soviet science and research, aided and abetted by information supplied by American traitors and Russian spies in this country, have obtained the vital secrets of the military use of atomic energy, for we seemingly have been criminally negligent in protecting these secrets, President Truman and Attorney General Clark to the contrary notwithstanding.

More Propaganda

But our own humble conviction remains that Comrade Vishinsky's hint is merely some more of the same old propaganda intended to deceive the Russian masses and

Local Plant Is Big Aid To Santa

Hundreds Of Toys Being Manufactured Here For Santa Claus' Pack

Although few boys and girls realize it, a great big boost is being given Santa Claus and his co-workers here in New Castle with hundreds of toys which will make the eager youngsters smile from ear to ear, being turned out daily.

For the third straight season, the Roberts Manufacturing company on Sampson street with its numerous employes has been engaged in making toy cranes and trucks at capacity speed in order to fill all the requests that have been sent to the firm from all sections of the world.

The rapidly expanding plant, which has already doubled from its original size to a building 150 feet in length and is still humming with activity despite the fact that most of the Christmas orders have gone out to various stores in the nation. At the peak of the rush, approximately 1500 metal toys a day are turned out. Now the plant is making on the average of 950 toy cranes and trucks a day.

The 26 young ladies employed at the plant are all seated around a long assembly line and add a particular vital piece to the toy until it reaches the end of the line all painted up and ready for distribution about the country. During the recent shipping strike in order to not disappoint anyone, the metal toys were shipped by air to South America.

Co-owners of the plant, Bob Love and Bob Lesniak, keep busy seeing that material is forthcoming so that the plant production line will keep in operation. They also plan in the future to design other toys to add to the crane and the dump truck which are being produced now.

Plans Made To 'Bomb' Dayton

No Mass Plane Maneuvers Are Being Planned However

By GEORGE MOISE
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. — The Strategic Air Command announced plans today to "bomb" Dayton, O., but it is doubtful if any residents of the city will know they are being "attacked".

Published reports early this week that "hundreds of planes" would participate in the mock attack were somewhat exaggerated, SAC said, since only one bomber will fly over Dayton at a time, and at an altitude of about 25,000 feet.

In all, perhaps as many as 40 B-29s will take part in the raids, which will start December 6 and last about 10 days.

Air Force public relations officers were at a loss to explain origin of stories which said that mass raids would be made and that Daytonians would be presented with a spectacle of U.S. air might.

Will Not Carry Guns

The raiding Superfortresses will not carry bombs, but ground radar will track the aircraft and compute mathematically the location of the impact point if bombs were dropped.

The ground radar unit will follow planes in their bombing runs, and will be notified when the bombadier calls "bombs away." Then, knowing the plane's speed, track, wind direction and ballistic data for the bombs, the scoring crew on the ground will plot the theoretical strike.

The exercises are designed to give practice both to the bombing crews and the radar tracking personnel.

Radar tracking is the only method of providing accurate results of bombing of industrial targets in peacetime. Obviously, live or dummy bombs can be used only on uninhabited impact areas. Just as obviously, wartime bombing calls for strikes on industrial areas, and the radar units provide the USAF with a means of practice.

All of the participating planes will fly long distances to make their raids, under all weather conditions and at all hours.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By Ernest G. Osborne

WHY NOT TRY THIS?

"But Mother, You Promised!"

Every now and then, we parents make promises with children which later we don't feel we need to keep. Perhaps the promise has been made under stress. We have wanted Billy to hurry and have said he could have a soda or an ice cream cone if he did. But it has gotten later and later and there isn't time to stop at the soda fountain.

Keeping such promises may not seem too important to us but it is to the youngsters. If situations of this sort happen very often, our children will begin to lose confidence in us and even worse, perhaps, develop the idea that it isn't important to keep one's promises.

One should be careful to make only those promises which can be kept. At times, very unusual circumstances may make it impossible for the promise to be fulfilled at the time planned but one should be scrupulous to explain fully to the child why this is so and then be sure to do what one has promised when it is possible. Such carefulness will pay big dividends in the development of children's confidence in us and in keeping promises they have made.

Wealthy Man Is Believed Victim Of Murder Plot

FLINTRIDGE, Cal., Dec. 2.—(INS)—Police believed that wealthy J. Forrest Oakes, 43, found fatally wounded by a shot fired through the window of his Flintridge home, was the victim of an ingenious murder plot.

Oakes, variously described as a retired realtor, hotel owner, automobile dealer and typewriter salesman, was shot as he sat near the window of his temporary two-story garage home.

The wounded man crawled to the kitchen and died at the feet of his wife.

Authorities said that the bullet may have been fired by a deer hunter. Said Capt. Garner Brown of the sheriff's homicide bureau:

"If our ballistics man says that a rifle bullet killed him, we will start looking for deer hunters. But until we know more about the case, we're not ruling out the possibility somebody worked out a clever plan to murder him."

The Oakes place overlooks Devil's Gate dam and is not far from the former estate of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Overell, killed when their yacht blew up in Newport harbor in March, 1947.

Says President Has Approved Recovery Plans

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—(INS)—W. Averell Harriman, Marshall plan ambassador, today said that President Truman has confirmed the policies under which the European recovery program is operating.

Harriman, who will leave for his post in Paris Saturday by plane from New York, said after a White House conference wtih the president:

"We are going straight ahead."

Harriman said he conferred with Mr. Truman on a matter of policy to be sure that the plan under which ERP has been operating were the president's policies as of now, and not needing change.

Asked his impressions of the president on his last call before leaving for Paris, Harriman said:

"He looks fine. He is hard at work. His mind is on the ball."

Encourage East-West Trade

Asked about east-west trade between the western democracies and countries behind the iron curtain, Harriman said:

"We encourage east-west trade. It is useful in promoting the recovery of Europe. It is a normal part of European trade, and we are for it."

He added:

"I know of no instances of the bootlegging of ECA materials which should worry the American public."

Harriman said that in all free economies, there is a certain amount of bootlegging and black marketing, but he knows of no instances of major importance involving ECA materials.

Jersey state chairman for ADA, won by about 30,000 votes. While New Jersey went for Dewey, three other congressional candidates backed by ADA were elected.

In Massachusetts the leader of ADA was the distinguished Harvard historian, Prof. Arthur M. Schlesinger Sr. He put together a highly effective team aimed to win votes from labor, the independents and the Wallaceites. One result was the election to Congress of a young veteran, Foster Furcolo.

To point up the contrast, ADA has called attention to what happened in California where every Democrat who accepted Wallace support was defeated. Every Democrat against whom Wallaceite candidates had filed was elected or re-elected.

The newcomers will be heard from in the new Congress. And ADA has already started an organizing drive aimed at elections still to come.

"RED, WHITE AND BLUE"

Mother has trouble with colors when she comes to the meat problem. Butch likes red meat, Mary likes white meat and the prices make her feel blue.

The colors of meat do not seem to make much difference in the nourishment.

Fish, game, beef, poultry, pork, mutton and other kinds of meat are good sources of protein.

They provide protein in a form which is easily used by the body.

A small amount of animal protein together with a large amount of vegetable protein makes a good combination.

Vegetables and grains provide a considerable amount of protein. If some animal protein is eaten with it, the body can make better use of the two kinds of protein than if the vegetable protein is eaten alone.

bluff the anti-Communist world. It is a reasonable assumption that the Comrade's ace in the hole is merely a deuce.

Our reasonable assumption before November second was that the national election for President and the Senate and the House of Representatives would result in a complete, thorough-going Republican victory.

We will be very leary for a year or two at least in basing our beliefs on all such assumptions.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

"pieces" to their own children or giving them "candy' money and that, therefore, it will grow harder year by year to hold your own tot to eating only at mealtime.

No use to tell your child not to accept food away from home. That's too hard for him to obey. Just try to make the most of the matter.

Some good results might accrue from discussing such problems in mothers' clubs and PTA's. (My bulletins., "Eating Problems" and "Your Child and His Playmates", may be had in a stamped envelope by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y.)

Larger Taxes Loom For U. S.

Such Is Implied From Remarks Of Budget Director Webb

DETROIT, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Budget Director James E. Webb hinted broadly today that the administration will ask the new 81st congress for some kind of an increased tax program.

Webb told the ninth biennial general assembly of the states that the federal budget for fiscal 1950, beginning July 1, is bound to be larger than this year's 42 billion dollar budget. He said:

"When we look ahead to fiscal year 1950, we find mounting requirements on almost every side. Although tax refunds and expenditures for veterans' programs will be reduced, increased expenditures are almost certain for national defense, the European recovery program, interest on the public debt, and other programs.

"This means that under present tax laws we face the possibility of a deficit at a time when a surplus is needed to help curb inflationary pressures, reduce the public debt and provide some reserve against the unpredictable hazards of a world not yet at peace."

Webb emphasized that "expenditures in this year's budget for war-related items and our efforts to achieve national security and peace take 81 cents out of every tax dollar spent." He added:

"The president has taken firm and repeated action to hold the 1950 budget to a minimum, but even so the outlook for the federal budget . . . is for some increase over 1949."

Car Population In State Thirty Per Cent Higher

CINCINNATI, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Pennsylvania's car population will be 30 percent higher by 1953 says Powel Crosley, Jr., builder of lightweight automobiles.

The increase, amounting to 710,000 vehicles was based on a forecasted national gain of 11,000,000 cars within the next five years. According to Crosley, the Keystone state now has 6.3 percent of all motor cars in active service in the United States.

"With the nation's census of vehicles likely to reach 48,000,000 by the end of 1953," Crosley said, "the need for a forward-looking program of road construction is becoming acute".

National Guard Recruiting Drive Under Way Here

Officers Of Guard Units Here Announce Recruits Can Be Taken Now

It was announced today by Capt. Leroy S. Ross and 1st Lt. James A. Yohn, commanding officers of service battery and headquarters battery respectively in keeping with the announcement by the governor of the State of Pennsylvania the local units of the Pennsylvania National Guard will open their ranks for the appointment and the enlistment of ten (10) officers and one hundred (100) enlisted men in the Headquarters Battery and fifty (50) enlisted men in the Service Battery with full benefits of pre-draft enlistees.

A member of the National Guard serving a three year enlistment receives many of the benefits of a regular soldier, a regular army uniform, a full days pay for one night's drill, full deferment from the present Selective Service Act, along with a pension or retirement plan similar to that of the regular army, and in event of a war will serve with his own officers and buddies in an organization whose prestige dates back to Revolutionary days with numerous citations for bravery in action.

The age limits on the recruiting program limit non veteran applicants to men between the ages of 17 and 18 and one half and 25 through 35 years of age.

Due to the recruiting program the Armory on Frank and Huron avenues will be open for the enlistments every night this week from 7 to 10 p. m.

Taxi Driver In Philly 'Big Man'

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 2.—(INS)—When folks say Leo Devine is a "big man," they mean just that.

There is no better authority for this statement than Devine's aunt, Mrs. Margaret Ohm of Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Ohm, a dressmaker, took three weeks recently—working "A little bit now and a little bit again"—to sew together a giant pair of trousers for her 550-pound nephew who drives a specially built taxi for the Yellow Cab company of Philadelphia.

The pants are six feet around at the waist and eight and one-half feet at the hips. For the task Mrs Ohm used three yards of 60-inch navy blue material. The pants have a reinforced seat and measure 41 inches from the 28-inch cuff to the waist.

Devine takes a size 12 shoe and a size 13 sock. His shirts are 27 inches from seam to seam across the shoulders.

As a result of the recent plebiscite in Newfoundland, that district has become the 10th Canadian province. The others are Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia.

Poetry Group Has Guest Night

Franklyn Blanning, Local Poet-Writer, Presents Interesting Program In Evening

Guest night was enjoyed at the New Castle Poetry group meeting, in the residence of Miss Frances Haydon, Maitland lane, on Wednesday evening.

Miss Garnet Rhodes presided and members answered the roll call by stating their poetry acceptances or rejections. They also introduced guests present at the meeting.

The principal speaker of the evening was W. Franklyn Blanning, local poet and prose writer. His poems were read by Paul Kielar, and a narrative poem he wrote which has been recorded accompanied by a musical background, was also thoroughly enjoyed.

Members displayed their original Christmas cards and other routine matters followed.

Miss Haydon served a delicious lunch at the close of the program. An informal period of inter-changing of ideas was enjoyed by the members and their guests, for the remainder of the evening.

Women Voters Hear Assemblyman Brice

Outlook For Legislation At 1949 Session Of State Assembly Program Topic

Members of the League of Women Voters of Lawrence County and the legislative department of Woman's club meeting jointly in the lounge of the Y. W. C. A. Wednesday afternoon heard Assemblyman James C. Brice speak on the outlook for legislation during the next General Assembly.

Mr. Brice spoke primarily about the mental health legislation expected to come before the next assembly and Act 481 passed at the last assembly granting extended taxing authority to municipalities.

Mrs. Helen Watson, an investigator for the Bureau of Women and Children for the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry, introduced by Mr. Brice, answered questions from the group regarding state employment laws covering women and minors.

It was announced that Mrs. Lyle Hughes, first vice president of the league, will attend the regional league economic conference at the Hotel Carter in Cleveland today.

During a short business meeting with Miss Margaret Brown presiding, it was announced that a letter has been sent to the county commissioners regarding adequate provision in the 1949 Lawrence county budget for the care of neglected and dependent children.

Mrs. Michael A. Mulcahy, Miss Janet S. Webster and Mrs. Alan K. Schmidt were special guests.

There will be no meeting of the league in December but in January there will be two meetings in the Y. W. C. A., a special meeting on the first Wednesday and the regular one on the fourth Wednesday.

Engineer At Penn State Has Answers

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Dec. 2.—(INS)—No matter whether it's lightning or honey bees, Paul E. Stephens, of the Pennsylvania State College Extension staff, knows the answer.

As an electrical engineer, Stepsens has measured the effects of lightning striking a 220,000-volt transmission line. As a farmer at nearby Pine Grove Mills, he has made a detailed study of honey bees, their production, and their habits.

New Jersey's new constitution is one of the shortest in the United States, with about 10,500 words. It is longer than the 1844 charter, however, which had 6,276 words.

CUSTOM HARVESTING

HARRISBURG—With wages high and farm help scarce, custom harvesting of Pennsylvania's bumper corn crop of more than 65 million bushels was popular throughout the state this fall, the state department of agriculture says. More machine pickers were in operation than ever before, owners using them for harvesting the crops of neighbors throughout their communities.

Nutritionist Here For Talk Wednesday

Mrs. Anna DePlanter Bowes Of Harrisburg Addresses Two Meetings In YWCA

Dieticians, health teachers, nurses, and homemakers largely composed the audience that on Wednesday evening in the Y.W.C.A. heard Mrs. Anna DePlanter Bowes, chief of the division of nutrition, Pennsylvania Department of Health, tell how to "Eat, Drink and Be Merry" and still maintain proper health requirements.

If you watch the calories, you can eat anything, she said, speaking of dieting, for it is a matter of watching one's portions and calorie intake rather than avoiding certain foods. Eating almost anything, even the richest deserts, is perfectly all right and would not make you overweight if eaten in the proper amounts in a well balanced diet. A main point of her lecture however was a warning for all women to guard against overweight. She advised the ladies present to try to maintain their ideal weight at the age of thirty as a long as possible.

Children's Diet

Mrs. Bowes' two other main points concerned the health of children. She expressed the belief that it was not necessary to fight with children to make them eat. She said that well planned diets will make meals more interesting for children and they will eat the proper amounts of the right foods.

The diet of expectant mothers was Mrs. Bowes' third main point. She emphasized how important the right kind of foods were in determining the bone structure, teeth, size and general health of a baby.

She illustrated her talk with samples of essentials to an adequate diet to often entirely lacking from the average diet. Some such foods are milk, lettuce, endive, and cottage cheese.

Mrs. Bowes was introduced by Mrs. William L. Cosel, chairman of the Red Cross Nutrition committee which sponsored the meeting in conjunction with the Council of Home Economics Women.

Question and Answer Period

An informal question and answer period followed the close of her talk.

Mrs. Bowes is the author of the book. "Food Values of Portions Commonly Used" now in its sixth annual edition.

As an additional feature, a new movie film short "Whenever You Eat" on a balanced diet put out by the National Dairy Council, was shown by Mrs. Jane Cochran.

In the afternoon Mrs. Bowes addressed a meeting, also in the Y.W.C.A. auditorium, of public health and school nurses, industrial nurses, hospital nurses, and nurses in training.

Committees for the event were Mrs. William Cosel, Mrs. U. A. Levio, Mrs. William Brandon and Mrs. Floyd Knowling from the Red Cross. Home Economics Council committee members were Mrs. Thomas Sadler, Mrs. Harold Glenn, Mrs. Paul Hoagland, Miss Virginia Pierson and Mrs. Fred Taylor.

On Wednesday, December 8, at 10:15 a. m., the Council of Home Economics Women will sponsor a nutrition lecture for the home economic students in senior high school. At the meeting to take place in the high school auditorium Miss Lois Helman, public relations director of Drexel Institute, Philadelphia, will be the speaker.

Many Groups Aid Miller Family To Get Re-Established

Family Enabled To Move Into Temporary Structure Near Burned Out Home

Untiring efforts of the neighbors, business houses, City Rescue Mission and other individuals and groups enabled in a great way for the family of Orville Miller, R. D. 1, to move into a remodeled building adjacent to their burned out home on the Ellwood City road on Wednesday evening, just ten days after the devastating fire struck the Miller home.

A scant few hours after the residence was gutted on Sunday morning, November 21, a call went out for clothing, cash contributions and other needed items with everyone responding nobly in the effort to re-establish the Miller family which consisted of six children and the parents, eight in all.

Several groups worked in the effort to supply the family with clothes, furniture, building materials and other furnishings in order that they could remodel the large garage on the Miller property and get the children back into school at Shenango Township grade and high school.

The City Rescue Mission, South Mercer street, acted as a clearing house for furniture and clothing with many, many items of both received by Rev. C. A. Smith, superintendent and taken directly to the Millers for their use. Miss Martha Bigley received numerous contributions at her plumbing shop on Croton avenue and also furnished a sink for the family.

Paul Hogue, a neighbor, furnished $80 worth of shingles; Panella Lumber company supplied sheet rock and wool; Rev. Ed. Shaffer collected $100; Wilford Deal collected $67; White store received $75 in donations; contributions were received at the Shaffer and Daugherty stores; Ramsey Hardware furnished paper and nails; Shenango Fire department gave $37. Mrs. Ada Orr, a neighbor, gave unstintingly of her time in making collections and doing other service for the Millers.

The family expresses its thanks to every one who had a part in any manner in aiding them to get back on their feet and get into the temporary building.

Ceramic tiles, used as floor and wall coverings on many modern church buildings, were found on the walls and floors of the excavated palace of Amenhotep IV which served as a shrine to the Sun God 2,400 years ago in Egypt.

IN THE OPEN

Somebody must have tipped off the weather bird that December was knocking at the door, for the weekend came up with a prevue of the gray days of deepest winter. A heavy hoarfrost lay across the bottomlands in the cheerless dawn. After a quick look at the morning I pulled up the covers and tried for another hour's sleep but there was too much going on just outside the windows.

The pheasants must know instinctively when the fall cannonading is over. For some weeks they have been making themselves scarce, but now that the nimrods have exchanged fowling pieces for deer rifles they are back on the morning patrol across the lawns. I could hear the small talk as a flock of hens moseyed by outside and was pleased to hear a ring-neck scold indignantly when some minor alarm sent the whole gang planing off down the valley.

Crows Set Up Cry

After the pheasants moved out a band of crows set up a hue and cry on the hillside across the creek. It was impossible to sleep with that racket going on so I rolled out and made the best of a gloomy morning. The starlings in the tall poplars by the roadside spent the forenoon practicing on their imitations of various bird songs. One of them has the "wolf" whistle of the sidewalks down pat.

By noon the thermometer had climbed into the lower 40's and the smell of impending rain broke through the overcast. I pulled on knee boots and plunged into the hillside thickets edging a large impounding reservoir. After a half-mile or so of rough going through the brier tangles I blundered suddenly upon another prevue of the coming winter scene.

Feathered Entourage

Cruising across the remains of an abandoned orchard came the whole feathered entourage that enlivens the somber countryside when snows lie deep and winds blow chill. They were all there, even the little brown creeper who spiraled his way up the trunks while the juncoes and chickadees worked the branches. There was a cardinal and his wife in the gang and I saw one kinglet—the golden crowned variety.

The familiar "Yank! Yank!" of winter woodlands belied the white-breasted nuthatches who had joined the pilgrimage. They performed in their usual upside-down manner, sharing the tidbits with several downy woodpeckers. There was even one of the larger hairy woodpeckers bringing up the rear like a sort of camp follower. A large flock of goldfinches, wearing brown for the cold months, and a songsparrow or two completed the roster.

Only Missing Members

The only missing members of the winter colony were the tree sparrows. I came across a large flock of them later on in the weedy old-fields at the head of the reservoir. Apparently misery loves company in the thickets when gray days arrive, for it is only during the cold months that birds of all clans come trooping along in one large mixed company.

There were a few ducks on the reservoir. When I broke through the little willows edging one of the coves a raft of eight spattered aloft and drove overhead with whistling wings while they gained altitude. They finally disappeared across the hills in the direction of a neighboring pond. A big canvasback came swimming right down the middle of the dam, closely convoyed by a little dark fellow I feel pretty certain was one of the coots which the hunters know as mud hens.

Duck Close Off-Shore

A little female bufflehead duck was feednig close off-shore. I moved each time she dove but she finally got suspicious and swam away from there, jerking her head indignantly and showing off her white cheek-spot. A small flotilla lay at anchor in the shallows near the head of the dam. The day was too dark for identification. As I drew nearer they broke their moorings and milled about uncertainly, finally resolving their fears in a magnificent sprint across the hills to safer anchorage.

There were sounds of great activity in the woods at the head of the dam. The noise was enough to drive all the wildlings to cover for the day. I headed that way and found a gang of youngsters busily engaged in building a "camp". One had an ancient axe going while some of the others were having a swell time swinging on a huge grape vine. Some day when no one is around I'm going to have a swing on that vine myself.

I crossed at the head of the dam and followed around the far side, ploughing through great patches of Spanish needle and some particularly vicious blackberry canes. On one of these canes was the shellacked egg case of the praying mantis. A station of sensitive fern spread a brown stain across a marshy stretch. I had just entered the grove of laurel oaks which guards the approaches to another cove when the overcast collapsed and the rain broke through. This put an effective damper on the whole proceedings.

SASSY FRASS

WORD OF BIRTH

On Wednesday, December 1, a son, Joseph Paul, was born in Mound Park hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth D. Arnold, of 2225 Second street, North, St. Petersburg, Fla., according to word received here.

Mrs. Arnold is the former Esther Reynolds McBride, daughter of C. P. Reynolds, of 210 East Garfield avenue.

Arlington National Cemetery was established June 15, 1864, on land which was originally the estate of George Washington's adopted son.

30 POLICE RECRUITS

HARRISBURG — Thirty newly enlisted student recruits have begun the regular course of instruction at the Pennsylvania State Police Training School, Hershey, Pa., according to an announcement from State Police headquarters on November 19. The men, all veterans of World War II, will be assigned to traffic duty upon successfully completing the six months course of instruction.

In the United States, the supply of peat is estimated to contain 12 million tons of dry fuel.

Kiwanis Hears Of Convention

Reports On Activities At State Meeting Are Given By Delegates

CLUB OFFICERS WILL ORGANIZE

Reports on the state convention of the Kiwanis Club, which was held in Reading, in October, were given to the members by President-elect John A. McGrath, and Secretary L. C. Mantz, who is also the new lieutenant governor of the local district, at the weekly luncheon meeting, in The Castleton, Wednesday noon.

President-elect McGrath gave a full report on the various meetings, and the high points of the convention. He announced that the new Pennsylvania district governor is Elmer Menges, of Ambler, Pa.; and the next convention will be in Pittsburgh, with the International convention in Atlantic City.

Lieut. Governor Mantz reported on the club ranking system, and of some of the points brought out at the meeting of the 17 lieutenant governors at Harrisburg last week. He also reported on the club officers meeting in Ellwood City, Tuesday evening.

President-elect McGrath, who presided at Wednesday's meeting in the absence of President Thomas G. Allen, announced a meeting for all club officers, directors, and committee chairmen, which will take place on next Tuesday evening, in the office of Secretary Mantz, on South Croton avenue.

Trans-World Airline Takes In Johnstown

HARRISBURG, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Trans-World Airlines today had Public Utility Commission approval to include Johnstown temporarily on its air route serving seven other Pennsylvania cities.

The PUC said the right will expire July 8, 1949, unless extended by the commission upon request and upon the proof of continued need for the service.

At a hearing in Johnstown October 14, the airline testified that a need exists for the service and that on July 8 the Civil Aeronautics Board granted TWA the right to include Johnstown on its interstate route for one year.

The commission granted the airline special permission to operate for four months September 7.

The route also serves Philadelphia, Allentown, Bethlehem, Reading, Lancaster, Harrisburg and Pittsburgh.

Deshon Hospital Vets To Receive Christmas Gifts

More than twenty counties of western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio were represented at a recent meeting in Butler of delegates from the camp and hospital committees of the various Red Cross chapters in the district.

Samuel J. Rashid of New Castle presided at the meeting. The group discussed methods of channeling the efforts of the various communities to give Christmas gifts to the patients of Deshon Hospital. The results of a poll of the soldiers at the hospital were discussed and each chapter volunteered to secure some of the desired items from those in their community who wanted to make a gift contribution.

Mr. Rashid announced today that Lawrence County chapter will try to provide fifty cigarette cases and cigarettes as its contribution. All gifts donated by civic groups or individuals will be wrapped and delivered by the Red Cross. Contributors may wrap their own gifts if desired and each package will be clearly marked to show the name of the donor.

Highway Fatalities Increase This Year

HARRISBURG—In the first nine months of this year highway fatalities total 1106 against 1098 for the same period of 1947.

For the first eight months of this year highway fatalities in Pennsylvania were less than in corresponding figure for 1947 but the 159 deaths in September this year were 40 in excess of September 1947.

There have been 59 more fatalities in rural areas so far this year and 51 fewer urban deaths in highway accidents, according to J. E. Smiley, Chief of Research and Statistics in the Bureau of Highway Safety, State Department of Revenue.

Excise taxes on cigaretes have been levied by the U. S. federal government since 1864.

OPPOSITE POST OFFICE—ON PUBLIC SQUARE

Around Hollywood

By ROLAND HAYES
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 2.—(INS)—A famous physician has been called in to help doctor-up the ailments of current movies.

His name is Frederick William Loomis. Ten years ago this month the good doc delivered his 6000th baby in San Francisco—and then embarked upon a new career in literature.

Doc Loomis, 77, was haled into Hollywood the other day to pick up a few healthy bucks as technical advisor on Paramount's "Bitter Victory". The screen story was adopted from his own magazine yarn, "Paid in Full".

In his own quiet way Doc Loomis has told veteran movie makers exactly what is wrong with current flickers.

"Take John Bromfield, for example," said the medico. "When he donned a stethoscope to hear Lizabeth Scott's heart he put the danged thing on back-to-front. Bromfield's a fine actor but I'd hate to trust him with my life."

Dr. Loomis hadn't been on the Paramount sound stage five minutes when he had painters hustling up ladders to change a sign reading "San Francisco City Hospital." He explained:

"This is where Miss Scott comes to have her baby. She's a well-to-do girl, a successful business woman. We erased the word 'city' because that indicates a charity institution. Miss Scott does not play a charity case."

No Boners

The eminent physician, who has written for many top magazines, doesn't want any movie boners sneaking into a film based on one of his articles. He studied the script thoroughly and came up with some important suggestions.

"The delivery room scene, for instance," he smiled. "The script says Stanley Ridges, who plays a doctor, should lift the newborn baby and spank it.

"That's wrong. The doctor's patient is a sick woman, and medical men always try to save the mother first, if there's a question of saving either mother or child.

Nurse Does Spanking

"In a case such as this the doctor would hand the baby to an assistant, the assistant would hand her to a nurse—and the nurse would do the spanking. This would leave both doctors free to attend the mother at the critical moment."

Dr. Loomis turned to writing about a decade back when night work became too strenuous for a man of his years.

"So I found I could write best at 2 o'clock in the morning. I wrote 'Bitter Victory' between two and four-thirty one morning. It was the ninth of my stories to be published."

The doctor's first book, "Consultation Room," was written during a pleasure cruise to South America. It became a best seller in 14 languages.

Discovery May Draw One Fang Of Atom Bomb

CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—(INS)—The announcement of a discovery which might draw out one of the deadly fangs of the atom bomb highlighted today the sixth anniversary of the release of atomic energy.

Dr. Robert D. Boche of the University of Chicago's Institute of Radio-Biology and Biophysics declared he has proved for the first time how rays given off when an atom is split kill living matter.

He claimed his tests proved that the deadly rays extinguish life by poisoning the body fluids.

He added that now science has to discover which of the many chemicals given off as the atom is split asunder makes the body fluids toxic.

He predicted that once this is known, it will be possible to create an antidote which will make man immune to the A-bomb's rays.

Dr. Boche, who has been working on the problem for 18 months, speculated that the antidote might be simple enough to administer in the form of pills or an injection.

Although he refused to predict how soon such an antidote might be discovered, he asserted:

"I am confident that we can discover such an antidote within our own lifetime."

Ward Methodists Attend Conference

Mahoning Methodists At District Meeting; Ministers Christmas Dinner December 17

Mrs. Q. E. Davy, Mr. and M. A. Boyd, Rev. and Mrs. J. L. Petrie, Frank Barnes and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Blasdell of Mahoning Methodist church attended the Grove City district conference on Tuesday at Epworth Methodist church.

There was an afternoon session at 2:30, banquet in the dining room at 6:30, and evening session at 7:30. Dr. T. H. Morris, supt. of Grove City district, was in charge of all sessions.

Theme of the conference was "The Advance of Christ and His Church". Dr. Harry Rice, supt. of Pittsburgh district, and Rev. J. A. Gaiser of First Methodist church were evening speakers.

Rev. Petrie led the singing at all sessions and sang a Scotch hymn at the dinner, accompanied by Mrs. Petrie. It is reported this was one of the largest district conferences ever held here.

Rev. J. A. Gaiser, Albert Howe and Rev. Petrie comprise the committee to arrange a Christmas turkey dinner for Methodist ministers of the Grove City district at the Methodist church in Mercer, Devember 17, at 6 o'clock. There will also be a Christmas tree and Santa Claus for the kiddies.

Missionary Group Meets At Metz Home

At the home of Mrs. Clyde Metz, Mt. Jackson road, members of the Women's Missionary society of Mt. Jackson U. P. church assembled on Wednesday for an all day meeting.

Sewing was done by the group during the morning hours.

The hostess sevred a tasty lunch at noon, assisted by Mrs. Judson McBride. The devotions were conducted by the hostess.

Mrs. John Brewster read an article dealing with the Jews and Arabs, and the Palestine situation. Other members joined in the discussion.

On Wedensday, January 5, Mrs. William Martin, Mt. Jackson road, will entertain the society.

K.J.U's Plan Joint Christmas Party

In the parlor of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church, the K. J. U. Bible class had its regular meeting on Tuesday evening. Mrs. Wade Daugherty led in the devotional exercises.

At the business session the nominating committee reported the following names for office: Mrs. Paul Bender, president; Mrs. John Martin, vice-president; Mrs. P. A. Gibson, secretary; Mrs. Evan Campbell, treasurer. These were duly elected and will take office on January 1.

The hostesses, Mrs. G. G. Horchler, Mrs. John Martin and Mrs. H. E. Alexander, served a delicious lunch.

Next meeting will take the form of a Christmas party on Thursday evening, December 9. It will be a joint meeting with the M. E. G. auxiliary.

Ward Airman Begins Fourth Enlistment

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Johnston of 612 West Clayton street have received a telephone call from their son, Master Sgt. Hallett H. Johnston, stationed at San Antonio, Tex., that he has re-enlisted in the air corps, for his fourth "hitch". He is attached to a special unit called "Uncle Sam's Air Mission".

Sgt. Johnston's wife and son John Edward also reside at San Antonio. They recently returned from Orangeville, Utah, where they spent a furlough visiting with Mrs. Johnston's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moffitt. Hallett is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. McCombs of West Clayton street.

William Metz and son William Metz, Jr., are on a hunting trip in the vicinity of Mt. Jewett and Kane.

Mrs. W. R. Barris of Mt. Jackson road reported Wednesday that she had two red roses blooming in her flower garden, also that there are some buds on lilac bushes.

In the Madison Avenue Christian church, members of the Loyal Workers Bible class will have a Christmas party this evening, beginning at 6:30, in the dining room.

This evening the McCoy Bible class of the Mahoning Methodist church will be entertained in the home of Mrs. Myrtle Miller, 427 East Garfield avenue, at 8 o'clock. The meeting will take the form of a Christmas party. Mrs. W. C. Cavany, Mrs. Q. E. Davy and Mrs. Genevieve Frost are associate hostesses.

On Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock the Opportunity Circle of Mahoningtown Presbyterian church will gather in the home of Mrs. W. F. McClurg, Fourth street.

George T. Wilson of West Clayton street is deer hunting in the neighborhood of Endeavor, near Oil City.

Death Is Winner In Allentown Race

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Dec. 2.—(INS)—An automobile and a motorcycle engaged in a race last night. Death was the winner.

State police said Llewellyn Schmoyer of Macungie RD 1, got into an argument with Donald Bartholomew of Emmaus over whether his automobile could beat Bartholomew's cycle up the Fifth street hill along the Lehigh mountain at Emmaus.

They got up the hill all right, and the drivers then decided to race down hill. While tearing down, they collided. The motorcycle shot off the road and knocked down a high tension wire which set fire to the car. Both drivers were killed almost instantly.

Kenneth J. Martin of Emmaus, riding in the car with Schmoyer, was injured and taken to Allentown hospital.

SOCIETY & Clubs

EAST BROOK GARDEN CLUB HAS MEETING

Members of the East Brook Garden club met Tuesday evening in the new home of Mrs. John Young, 106 South Crawford avenue, with her daughter, Miss Ruth Young, as co-hostess.

Roll call was answered with ideas for preparing both vegetable and flower gardens.

Mrs. M. M. Ingham was in charge of the program, which was opened by Mrs. John Robinson, who read the poem, "Winter Song". Mrs. Mae McConaghy read the article "The Island of Eagles", which told of Mt. Johnson Island in the Susquehanna river, 21 acres of virgin timber kept by the Autobon society. There is one eagles nest on the island, this being very rare. Mrs. E. B. Kennedy of New Wilmington then read an article "The Romance of Spices" which told how important and valuable spices were in the early days of trading between Europe and the East. Mrs. Frank Alborn gave an account of the 'mum' show at Phipps Conservatory in Pittsburgh making special note of the football room done in mums and of the orchids in the tropical room.

Election of officers resulted in the re-election of those now serving: president, Mrs. John Robinson; first vice president, Mrs. Mae McConaghy; second vice president, Mrs. Frank Alborn; recording secretary, Mrs. Howard Fox; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Vane Johns; treasurer, Mrs. Charles Black; member at large, Mrs. Frank Waddington.

Mrs. Mary Uber was a special guest.

The December meeting will be an afternoon luncheon meeting with an exchange of gifts between secret sisters.

'47 CLUB HAS FIRST MEETING

A group of graduate nurses of the New Castle Hospital Class '47 gathered Wednesday evening at the first meeting of the newly organized '47 Club in the home of Mrs. Phillip Clark, of Pearson street.

Miss Jennie De Carbo was elected president of the group and Mrs. Eleanor Grecco as secretary. Bridge and 500 were the diversion of the evening, with prizes going to Mrs. Anthony Ragusso and Mrs. Josephine Di Lorenzo. At a late hour refreshments were served by the hostess.

The next meeting will be a Christmas party at the home of Miss Jennie DeCarbo of Maitland street.

ELTEKON CLASS HAS GATHERING

Eltekon class of First Methodist church gathered in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Salsbury, Wilmington avenue, Tuesday evening, when Mr. and Mrs. L. Holsapfel and Mr. and Mrs. William Stover entertained jointly.

Charles Goodman and Sidney Lockley were awarded tokens for games. Later a delicious tray lunch was served by the hosts.

A holiday party will feature the next assembly Tuesday evening, December 28, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Lockley, Lincoln avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ward and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Swift will be co-hosts at that time.

Y. M. L. Club

Y. M. L. club members met with Mrs. Rose Cotolesse, of Pearson street, Wednesday evening.

Tables of cards were in play, and high score prizes afterwards were given to Mrs. Anthony Mitolo and Mrs. Anthony Peluso. The door prize was won by Mrs. Anthony Peluso.

The birthday of Mrs. Rose Cotolesse was honored and she was given a gift by her mother, Mrs. James Lavella, and by the club. A delicious lunch was enjoyed later, Mrs. James Lavella and Mrs. Stanley Lavella, aiding the hostess.

December 15, is the meeting with Mrs. Joseph DeMuccio, Lutton street, when an exchange will be held, and secret pal will be revealed.

DOMENICK-KERR CHURCH WEDDING

Miss Irene Domenick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Domenick of 15 West Cherry street, became the bride of Thomas C. Kerr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kerr of R. D. 7, Mahoningtown, at a lovely church wedding performed in St. Lucy's church Thursday morning, November 25, at 9 o'clock. Rev. Fr. Walter Karaveckas officiated at the single ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a gown of white slipper satin, fashioned with a high neckline with the yoke and bodice outlined with seed pearls and silver basket baggettes in the form of lover's knots, and a full skirt with a duchess train. Her fingertip veil of French illusion, edged with appliques of lace fell from a crown of seed pearls and silver basket baggettes. She carried a bouquet of white roses and baby mums.

Miss Mary Jane Frigione, as maid of honor, wore a light green dress, made strapless with a little cap sleeved jacket which buttoned up the back. She wore a head band of horse hair braided with sequins and carried a bouquet of pink roses and mums.

Bridesmaids, the Misses Caroline Rozzi, Theresa Ross and May Fioranti wore American Beauty gowns made the same as the maid of honor's. Their head bands were also the same and they carried bouquets of roses and mums. Charlene Rozzi was flower girl and Sammie Russo was the ring bearer.

Frank Doman served the groom as best man and the ushers were Leonard Santillo, Charles Domenick and Albert West.

Following the ceremony there was a dinner at St. Margaret's hall for 250 guests and a reception in the evening at St. Margaret's hall for 400. The newlyweds then left on a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination and upon their return will reside at 15 West Cherry street .

Mrs. Kerr is a graduate of New Castle high school and was employed at the court house as a clerk. Mr. Kerr is a veteran of several years service in the U. S. Marine Corps and is now employed at the Sharon Steel Corp., Lowellville, O.

NORMA CRUM IS FETED AT SHOWER

Miss Joan Miller of Grandview avenue entertained Tuesday evening at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Norma Crum, bride-elect of this month. The guests were all former school mates, all graduating together from Union high school, class '47.

The evening was spent in an informal social period with prizes for games going to Miss Mary Rae Bailey and Miss Pat Bartlett.

A delicious spaghetti supper was served by the hostess, assisted by her her mother, Mrs. Julius D. Miller, Miss Grayce Cifra and Miss Leona Heckart.

The honoree was then given a poem which directed her to the hiding places of her gifts throughout the house. She was the recipient of many lovely and useful gifts.

Miss Crum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul G. Crum of 1121 Hemlock street, will become the bride of Richard Hammers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Hammers of Edenburg R. D. 1, on Saturday, December 4.

VANATTEN-SHAFFER ENGAGEMENT TOLD

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Vanatten of 413 Taylor street announce the engagement of their daughter, Ruth Vanatten, and Ralph Shaffer, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Shaffer of Volant R. D. 3.

No date has been set for the wedding.

C. B. Club Meets

Members of the C. B. Club met in the home of Mrs. Ralph Criswell, of Temple avenue, Wednesday evening.

Prizes for games were awarded to Mrs. Ralph Criswell and Mrs. Isaac Fletcher. The balance of the evening was spent in an informal social period. Plans were made for the annual Christmas dinner, to be in the home of Mrs. Robert Huston, of Winter avenue, December 15.

At a late hour, delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Paul Smith.

Fruit Harvest Figures Issued

Production Of Peaches, Grapes This Year Exceeded 1946-47 Average Crops

HARRISBURG — Production of peaches and grapes this year in Pennsylvania, exceeded the 1936-47 average, but apples and pears were less than average, the State Department of Agriculture reports from Federal-State surveys as of November 1.

Peaches were the only Pennsylvania fruit crop this year that exceeded both 1947 and 10-year average production, the survey revealed. The 1948 crop of 2,182,000 bushels compares with 1,920,000 last year and the average of 1,960,000.

This year's pear crop of 255,000 bushels compares with 262,000 in 1947 and the 10-year average of 415,000 bushels. Apples at 4,520,000 bushels this year compare with 6,612,000 in 1947 and the average of 8,031,000.

Grape tonnage improved slightly in the Erie belt after fall rains. Earlier dry weather kept bunches light, but color was good. For sugar content, quality was said to be the best in years. Juice plants at times could not take care of growers deliveries. Processors later were looking for more grapes as the market for juice appeared better than last year. Production at 17,600 tons compares with 18,100 last year and the average of 16,330 tons.

MAN BURNED BY PAINT REMOVER

Hughey A. Collette, aged 59 years, of R. D. 1, Edenburg, suffered first, second, and third degree burns of both hands and legs, when paint remover he was using in his home exploded Wednesday evening.

He was brought to the Jameson Memorial hospital where he was admitted for treatment at 6:40 p.m. His condition today was reported as fair.

AUSTRALIAN CAR PARTS

MELBOURNE—(INS)—Shortage of dollars will cause American motorcar manufacturers to use more Australian parts if they are to retain their markets in Australia. This was stated recently by Prime Minister Joseph B. Chifley. He was commenting on reports that the Chrysler-Dodge organization intends establishing assembly factories in Australia.

A&P's Fruits and Vegetables are Fresh!

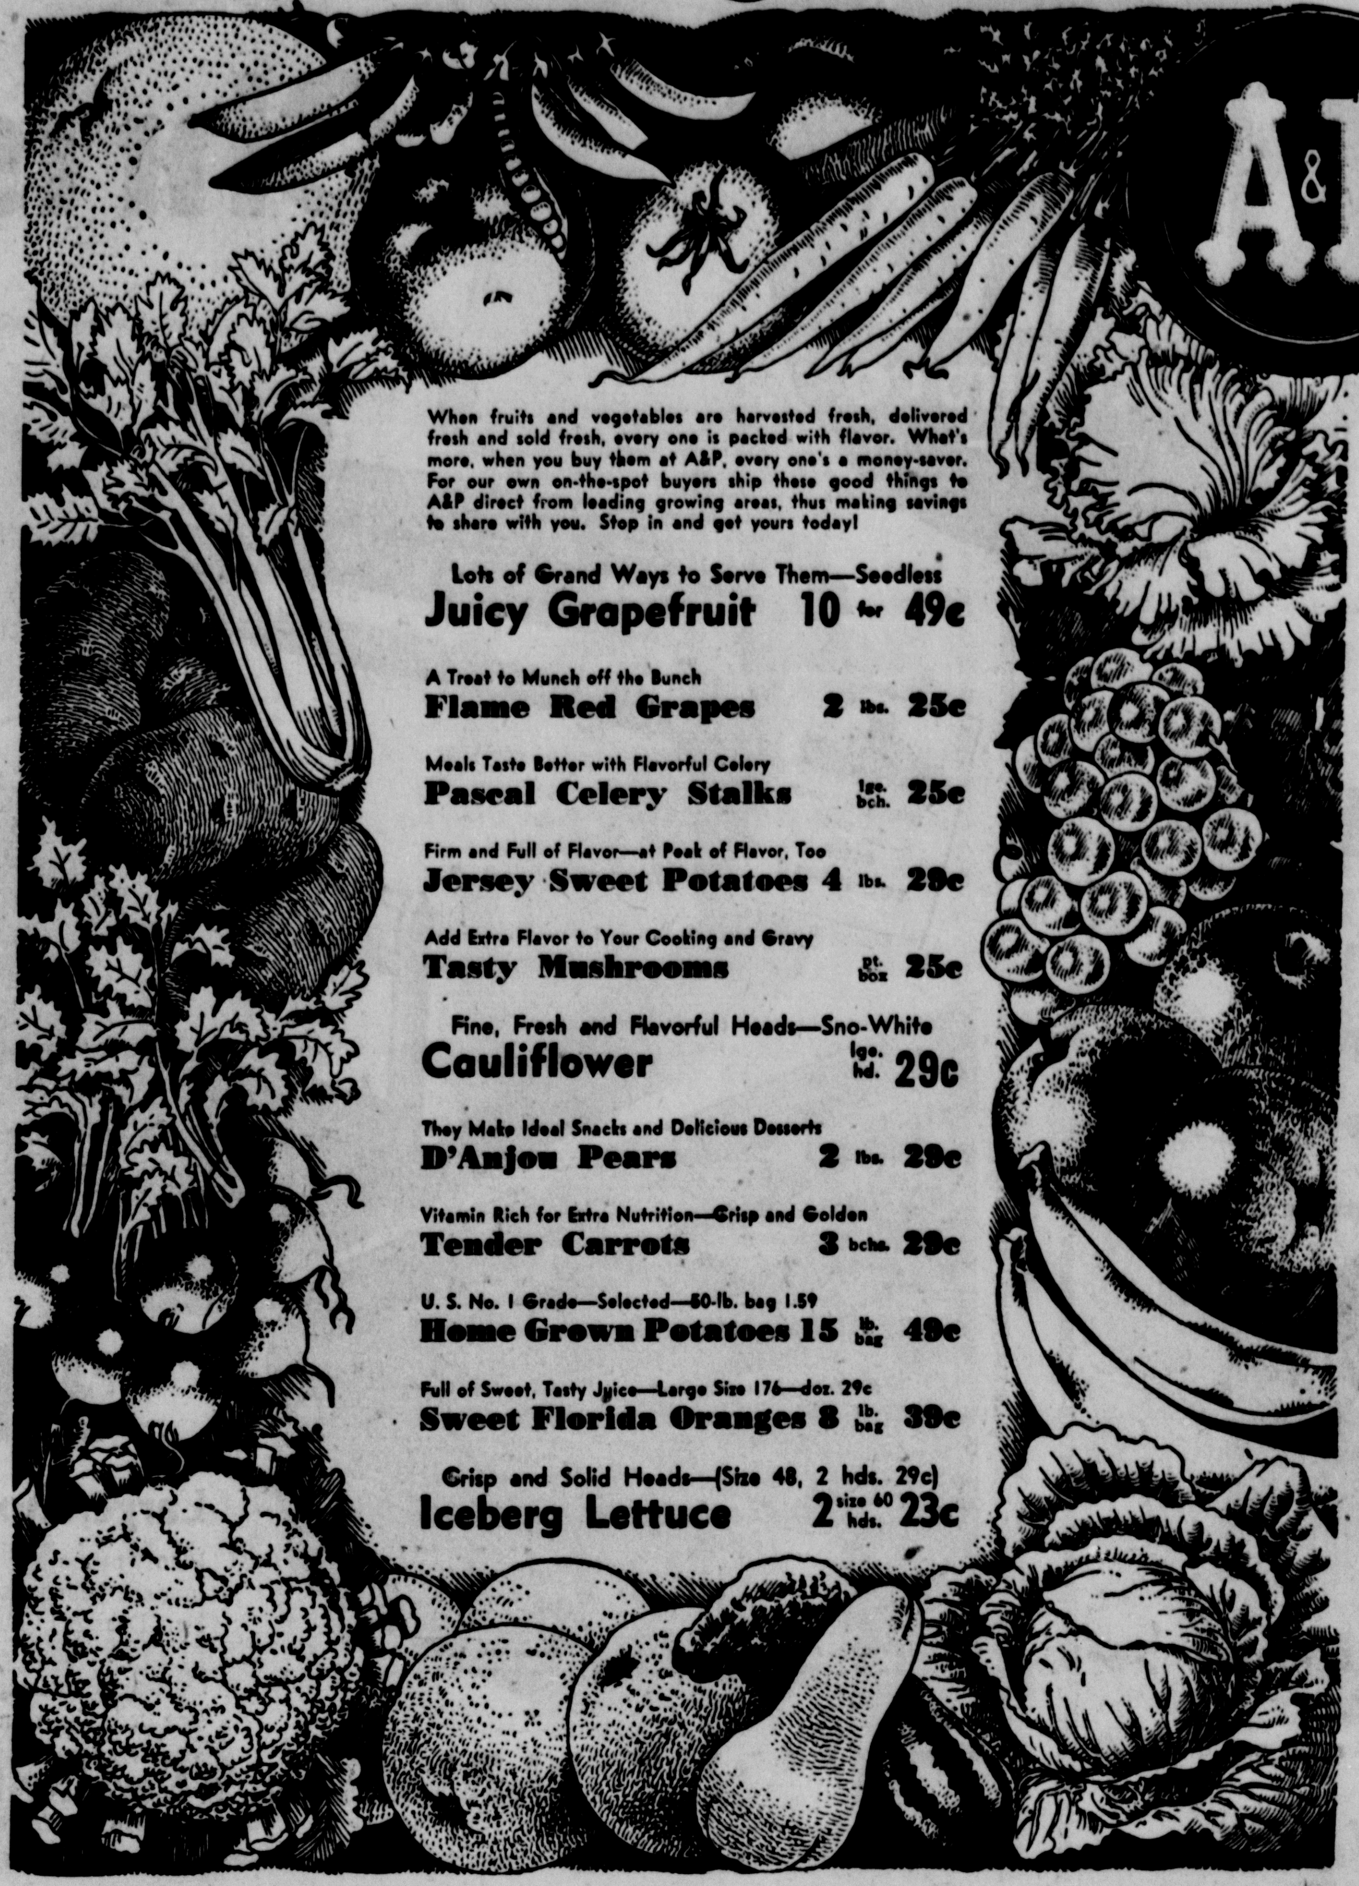
SAVE THE A&P WAY... IN EVERY DEPARTMENT EVERY DAY...

When you shop at your thrifty A&P you don't just save here and there or now and then. You save in every department in the store, every day in the week! Yes, A&P's price policy helps you save on all your foods all the time. What is that policy? Simply this: We cut our operating expenses to the bone and, instead of pocketing the resulting savings we share them with you in the form of everyday low prices. Shop at A&P and see for yourself how these prices help you eat better and spend less!



When fruits and vegetables are harvested fresh, delivered fresh and sold fresh, every one is packed with flavor. What's more, when you buy them at A&P, every one's a money-saver. For our own on-the-spot buyers ship these good things to A&P direct from leading growing areas, thus making savings to share with you. Stop in and get yours today!

Great Advance In Health In Nation In Past 10 Years

CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—(INS)—A leading insurance statistician asserted today that the past ten years have brought the greatest advance in health in the history of the United States.

Dr. Louis I. Dublin, health statistician and a vice president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., placed introduction of the sulfa drugs and penicillin at the top of the list of health aids.

He also listed marked progress in surgery, obstetrics and other medical fields, increased use of blood proteins, and whole blood.

Dr. Dublin said his report was made after a study of the company's policyholders during the period from 1936 to 1945.

Other advances he noted included a spectacular decline in tuberculosis death, a 26 per cent general death rate decline, and a gain of four and three-quarters years in life expectancy.

CLARION COUNTY HAS POLIO CASE

CLARION, Pa., Dec. 2.—(INS)—Four-year-old Joseph Brand was a patient in the Grove City hospital today with an illness diagnosed as poliomyelitis.

Although both of the lad's legs are affected, his condition is not considered serious. His affliction was the second case of polio in Clarion county this year.

The other, Jimmy Wiant, also 4, is recovering at the Watson home in Leetsdale, Pa.

Pomona Grange To Meet Saturday

Members of Lawrence County Pomona Grange will assemble on Saturday, December 4, in the New Bedford U. P. church with the New Bedford grange as hosts for the occasion.

The morning session will open at 10:30 o'clock and will consist of a business session. At noon, a dinner will be served by ladies of the grange. At the afternoon session, reports from the state and national grange will be heard.

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Bad news for 1,625,000 Western Pennsylvanians was in the mail today.

Internal Revenue Collector Stanley Grange has posted the 1948 income tax return blanks for residents of the area.

Tifereth Israel Services Will Be For A.Z.A. Group

Activities For Coming Week End Announced At Tifereth Israel Synagogue

Religious services Friday evening at 8 p. m. will be dedicated to the A. Z. A. No. 248 of B'nai B'rith.

A special boys choir will chant the Sabbath liturgies with Rabbi Jules Lipschutz. Jack Haims, president of the local A. Z. A. will preach the sermon, and the guest speaker at the reception will be Aaron Cohen, who will speak upon the subject: "The Jew and His Responsibilities Today."

Mrs. Edward Haims and committee will tender a reception. The invocation will be given by Joseph Cohen and the benediction by William Berkman. Those actively assisting in the religious service are, Ernie Bobick, Sidney Cornrich, B. Gillman, Daniel Nixon, Edward Rexnick, H. Gordon, B. Alansky, R. Solomon, Stewart Crocker, and Gerald Greenberg. The prayer for the government will be made by Donald Kulkin. Greetings will be conveyed by Rabbi Jules Lipchutz, Gilbert Levine, president of B'nai B'rith and Dr. Nathan N. Ginsburg, president of Tifereth Israel Synagogue.

Under the direction of Rabbi Jules Lipschutz, Senior Advisor, a public debate will be held on Sunday evening, December 5, at 7:30 o'clock in the vestry of Tifereth Israel Synagogue. This debate is being sponsored by the Maccabean's affiliated with the Young Judea group of New Castle. The topic of the debate is: "Resolved that Zionism is compatible with patriotism." The participants are, Lynn Slovonsky, Sidney Shenken, Samuel Kulkin, David Alter, Howard Meyers and Marshall Ginsburg. Judges appointed Rabbi Jules Lipschutz will be, Atty. Gilbert Levine, Aaron Cohen and Mrs. Jack Kulkin, chairman of the Zionist Youth Commission of New Castle. Lou Kohn will extend greetings in the name of the New Castle Zionist District and Lawrence County.

Rabbi Jules Lipschutz will offer a series of symposiums upon the subject, "Ethics and Philosophy" to boys and girls of high school age. Registrations may be made with Jack Haims, president of the local A. Z. A. group.

A regular meeting of the Young Judeans . . The Maccabeans will be held Saturday evening, December 4 at the home of Allan Greenberg, 11 W. Leasure avenue. Greetings will be extended by Rabbi Lipschutz, Jack Haims and Robert Solomon, Senior Leaders of the group. A symposium will be held . . upon the subject: "Israeli's Membership in the U. N."

CHEWTON

Speaker Heard By Moose Auxiliary

Grand Member Of Board Of Regents At Meeting Here; Christmas Plans Made

At a meeting in the Moose hall Tuesday evening, the Moose auxiliary heard as speaker Miss Betty Rodgers, of Sharon, grand member of the Board of Regents, as speaker.

Plans were completed for the Christmas basket giving. It is expected that approximately 20 baskets will be distributed. Mrs. Theodore Palmer is chairman of the committee in charge.

Sunday, December 12, is the date set for an open initiation ceremony to take place in conjunction with a Moosehaven chapter program at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The program is open to friends and guests. Mrs. Pauline Springer is chairman of the committee in charge. A tureen dinner with husbands as guests will follow at 6 o'clock.

On December 15, the auxiliary Christmas social will take place with Mrs. Loretta Moore in charge of reservations.

On the evening of December 8, the lodge will go to Youngstown where it will conduct initiation of new members of the Youngstown lodge. The group plans to go by chartered bus, leaving the Moose hall at 7 p. m.

Committee Wednesday evening was Mrs. Ann Conti, Mrs. Della Miller, Mrs. Margaret Grittie, and Mrs. Edwin Fisher.

Seek 11,000 For Guard In State

Proclamation Authorizing Recruitment Issued By Governor Duff

HARRISBURG, Dec. 2.—(INS)—A proclamation authorizing recruitment of approximately 11,000 men in the Pennsylvania National Guard has been issued by Gov. James H. Duff.

Youths in the 19 through 25 age bracket will not be eligible to enlist during the campaign which opens Wednesday.

Men over the maximum 25 year draft age and youths between 17 and 18½ will be eligible to enlist, according to the State Department of Military Affairs.

The enlistments will enable the organization to reach its quota and thus "discharge its responsibilities to the security of the nation", the governor said.

The PNG has been limited to 16,200 men by the National Guard Bureau and enlistments were suspended in June when the quota was filled by a flood of enlistments prior to activation of the new selective service law, according to State Adj. Gen. Frank A. Weber.

Proclamation Issued

Authority to enlist youths in the 17 to 18½ age bracket will be contained in a proclamation issued by Gov. James H. Duff, he added.

Under selective service law, governors may permit recruitment in the classification when it has been determined that the organization cannot be maintained at authorized strength by enlistment of men over 25 years of age.

"I urge the mothers and fathers of Pennsylvania," Weber said, "to give serious consideration to the opportunity being afforded their sons to serve their country without leaving home.

"No one can foretell what lies ahead in the next few months. But if the worst should come, isn't it logical that those taking part-time military training now in the Pennsylvania National Guard are much better equipped to take care of themselves than those newly inducted for emergency.

"In joining the Pennsylvania National Guard, he belongs to the oldest National Guard organization in the country, one that has responded to the nations call in all its wars.

"He will learn a valuable skill with pay, such as radar, automotive, aviation, mix with a fine group of men, enjoy the guard's social and recreational programs at its armories and summer encampments and advance as high as his ability will take him," Weber asserted.

During World War II, he added, selective service records revealed that an average of 4,000 Pennsylvania youths reach the age of 18 each month.

Authority to recruit youth for the Pennsylvania Air National Guard was given by Duff last October. The new proclamation will extend the authority to all units in the PNG.

By serving three years in the PNG, Weber said, youths between 17 and 18½ years of age will discharge their military responsibilities under the selective service act.

The PNG trains two hours one night a week and goes into 15 days' field training each summer at the Indiantown Gap Military Reservation.

Set Holiday Hours For Liquor Stores

HARRISBURG, Dec. 2.—(INS)—State liquor stores today were ordered closed at 6 p. m. Christmas and New Years eves by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board.

The board said state stores would be open until 9 p. m. Thursday, December 23, and Thursday, December 30, to handle the rush.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Quentin Reynolds calls attention to the fact that Montgomery's campaign in the Near East altered a centuries-old custom of the natives in those parts. "Since time immemorial," says Reynolds, "Arabian men rode majestically on the family donkey while their wives, laden down with all sorts of burdens, trudged patiently behind on foot. After 1942, however, all that was changed. The wife was emancipated. She now walks in front There are many unexploded land mines..."

Forain, the French engraver, was on his death bed. His family, gathered about him, simulated confidence in his recovery. "You're looking much better," his wife assured him. "The color has come back to your cheeks," said his son. "You are breathing easier, father," his daughter observed.

Forain nodded and smiled weakly. "Thank you all," he whispered. "I'm going to die cured."

Jobless Payments Reveal Decline

HARRISBURG, Dec. 2.—(INS)—State Treasurer Ramsey S. Black reported payments to jobless workers and unemployed veterans totaled $831,808 during the week ended November 26.

Disbursements to jobless workers amounted to $547,475 during the week, compared with $916,205 the preceding week, Black said.

Payments to veterans under the Servicemen's Readjustment act totaled $264,333, compared with $495,080 in the previous period, he added.

Over 185,000 Phones Installed In Year In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG, Dec. 2.—(INS)—More than 185,000 telephones have been installed in Pennsylvania this year, but the demand for service still continues "at a high rate."

Addressing a meeting of employes last night in Harrisburg, John C. Longstreth, vice-president and general manager of the Pennsylvania Bell Telephone Company, declared that the demand for telephone service has been "phenomenal." But, he added, the waiting list has been reduced from 85,000 to 49,000.

Demand for service "has necessitated construction budgets of enormous proportions, Longstreth said. He pointed out that the company spent $42,000,000 on construction during 1946 and $61,000,000 in 1947. The 1948 construction cost is estimated at $72,000,000 he added.

Probe Near-Riot At Junior High

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Pittsburgh police today were investigating a near-riot at the Herron Hill junior high school.

Officers said a fight started after classes were dismissed Wednesday, apparently between two rival gangs of boys.

By the time police arrived, groups of adults were milling around the fighting boys and on the verge of joining in.

Three youths were arrested. There were no injuries.

Jesus Tells Apostles To Spread Gospel

NEW TESTAMENT RELATES HISTORY OF CHURCH GROWTH

The apostles preaching in Jerusalem.

"Go ye therefore, and make disciples of all the nations."
—Matthew 28:19.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

Our lesson today tells how the Christian religion, beginning as a new way of life among a small group of humble, unlettered men, under the leadership of Jesus of Nazareth, grew until it had spread over the whole of the then known world, Palestine, then Asia and Europe.

The New Testament stories give us the entire story—the beginning, growth, and spread of this religion under the leadership of the Master while He was on earth, and after His death and ascension, its continued expansion under His disciples.

Nothing could stop it. Persecution, torture, death — its disciples could not be silenced. Obeying the injunction of Jesus to spread the message "in Jerusalem, and in Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth," in the nearly 2,000 years since the time the apostles started their missionary work, there are no civilized nations on the face of the globe that have not heard, in part, at least, of the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

It was just before Jesus' ascension that, being with His Apostles, He told them that He was leaving them, but that they should take His message to the whole world. Then, "He was taken up, and a cloud received Him out of sight."

Jesus had told them that they would receive the power of the Holy Ghost, and while they—the Apostles—were gathered together on the day of Pentecost, this came true.

The Holy Ghost descended upon them accompanied by a mighty wind that filled all the house, and cloven tongues of fire sat upon each of them, and they began to speak in other tongues—signifying that they would be able to bring their message to others who spake not their language.

Peter and John, preaching from the temple steps in Jerusalem after performing a miracle aroused the anger of the Sadducees, because they preached Christ risen from the dead.

These men—many of whom were rich and powerful—laid hold on them and put them in custody for the night, as it was evening. Nevertheless, about 5,000 persons were converted that day.

Soon great persecution started, and the disciples were scattered. Philip went to Samaria and preached Christ to the people there. They listened and believed. Among these people was one Simon who was a charlatan—one who pretended to perform miracles, fooling the people. After listening to Philip, Simon too was converted and continued with Philip.

Now there arose dissension in the church because certain of the Jews felt that if a Gentile received the message, he should become a Jew — be circumsized. Peter, however, had a vision and told it to these doubters.

He saw a sheet let down from heaven with all manner of living things in it. A voice said to him, "Rise, Peter, kill and eat." Peter was horrified and said he had never eaten anything unclean—meaning the meats the Jews considered unclean. However, the voice answered "What God hath cleansed, that call not thou unclean." The argument eventually died out, and Gentiles were received the same as Jews.

We do not have space to tell of the missionary journeys of Saul — Paul — and Barnabas out of Antioch to Greece and later of Paul and Timothy, the son of a Jewess and a Greek. And how while they were at Troas a vision appeared to Paul of a man of Macedonia, who prayed to him to "come over into Macedonia to help us." So to Macedonia in northern Greece they went.

For nearly 20 years Paul traveled, spreading the gospel over the earth, but finally his wanderings were ended. He was taken prisoner in Rome—into "protective custody," as they say today.

Paul was allowed to live in a house of his own, but with a soldier to guard him. Nero was then on the Roman throne—Nero, the arch persecutor of Christians who martyred thousands of believers, including Paul.

Yet here, guarded as he was, Paul at this time was allowed to "receive all that came to hime. Preaching the kingdom of God, and teaching those things which concern the Lord Jesus Christ, with all confidence, no man forbidding him."

A map showing the missionary journeys of Paul and his companions would be most helpful in teaching this lesson.

Mrs. D. V. Eakin Funeral At Jerome

Funeral services for Mrs. D. V. Eakin, Jerome, Idaho, were conducted today in Jerome, where interment also took place, according to a message received by local friends. The deceased was a former resident of Clintonville and New Castle.

Mrs. Eakin, nee Miss Henrietta Cross, died Monday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Helen Washburn, Jerome. Her husband preceded her in death 16 years ago.

Born February 24, 1857, in Clintonville, she was a daughter of the late Judge Robert and Hannah McKissick Cross. The deceased was a member of the Presbyterian church of Jerome.

Survivors include nine children, Mrs. Virginia Hansen, Horse Shoe Bend, Idaho; H. Victor Eakin, Butler; R. E. Eakin, New York City; D. W. Eakin, Canton, O.; William S. Eakin, Spokane, Wash.; Norman C. Eakin, Rock Springs, Wyo., and Mrs. Helen Washburn, Samuel E. and Edward C. Eakin, all of Jerome.

She also leaves 20 grandchildren, including Mrs. Frank L. McClure, nee Miss Henrietta Eakin, a former nurse in the Jameson Memorial hospital, now residing in Butler, and 13 great-grandchildren.

Urges U.S. Create Greatest Military Force In World

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—(INS—Rep. Vinson (D) Ga., incoming chairman of the house armed services committee, today called on congress to create the world's greatest military force to guarantee peace.

Vinson announced that upon becoming committee chairman Jan. 3 he will sponsor legislation to provide an army, navy and air force "which will insure, to the best of our ability, peace".

He said this should be large enough to provide a "nucleus from which we could build the essential military forces to overwhelm the forces of any other country which might decide to wage war against us".

Vinson, who for 16 years headed the old house naval affairs committee, declined to comment on President Truman's announcement that military appropriations for the 1950 fiscal year beginning July 1 will be limited to fifteen billion dollars.

He added, however, that if the U. S. wants "adequate defense" then "the country might as well make up its mind that's going to cost money". He said he hopes to discuss the matter with Mr. Truman next week.

CONGENIAL TRAINMEN

CLEVELAND.—(INS)—The Erie railroad has been working to improve the manners of its passenger conductors and trainmen for the past 11 years. Passenger traffic manager R. B. Rogers reported recently that the conductors and trainmen have been participating in a training course on how to perform their duties in a friendly and congenial manner.

PAYMENTS TO JOBLESS

HARRISBURG — Ramsey S. Black, state treasurer, announced that unemployment compensation benefit payments to jobless Pennsylvania workers during the week ended November 12, 1948 totaled $569,788 paid in 33,151 checks.

DEER HUNTER KILLED

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 2.—(INS)—The first deer hunting fatality of the season in the Pittsburgh district was recorded today.

Harold Martin, 28, apparently was hit with a stray bullet 15 miles southeast of Ridgway Tuesday. His body wasn't found until Wednesday.

Game commission officials said it was the fifth shooting fatality of the Pennsylvania season, which opened Monday. Three hunters have died of heart attacks.

Saturday To Be Bangle Day

Special Fund Raising Effort In Christmas Seals Sales Program

Saturday, December 4, has been designated as Bangle Day by the Lawrence County Tuberculosis society. Every year this important day in the middle of the seal sales program is a highlight of the pre-Christmas fund raising campaign.

Fannie Lee Isaac, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Isaac of Wampum road, is shown above getting the jump on the Rainbow Girls of New Castle who will sell the bangles locally. Little Miss Isaac, unknown to her mother, took a bangle box around her neighborhood and had it completely filled two weeks before the campaign was supposed to start. Fannie said that she was very anxious to help all little children who had tuberculosis, and she would continue to fill a second and even a third box if her mother would let her. Of course her mother permitted and the contributions to Miss Isaac's box have been phenomenal.

Used As Symbol

As in past years, the bangles which will be sold by the Rainbow Girls throughout the city is a small, red, two-armed cross.

It is significant that the bangle, popularly known as the Cross of Lorraine, has been used a symbol by groups crusading for a worthy cause throughout the course of history.

In the early day of Christianity, the eastern branch of the Christian church was identified by this famous cross. Later the Duke of Lorraine adopted it as the emblem of his forces as they battled for control of the Holy Land in the crusades. The name, Lorraine Cross, has prevailed since that time.

In the first world war, the 79th division of the AEF wore the cross as an arm patch on their uniforms. Still later, the cross was adopted by the Free French forces in their efforts to liberate France from the Nazis.

Courtesy Week At Senior High

"Courtesy" is the subject of a week long program at senior high school designed to acquaint all of the pupils with its fundamentals and the advantages of being courteous.

This is the first time that such an undertaking has been tried on a school wide basis in New Castle and Mrs. Marjorie Nelson, assistant principal, has done extensive preparation to make the program both entertaining and interesting.

A movie, "Charm and Personality" was shown to the student body on Tuesday. A question and answer discussion of the film was held in each session room on Wednesday. A student participation program is scheduled for Thursday and Friday. The number of pupils at senior high is so great that two assembly programs are required to accommodate the entire group.

The week's program will be culminated Monday with a general discussion in the session rooms on the values of courtesy and on the benefits that can be derived from this type of a school-wide program.

To Seek More State Aid For Hospitals

HARRISBURG, Dec. 2.—(INS)—The Commonwealth will be asked to more than double its program of state aid to hospitals when the 1948 general assembly convenes next month.

Meeting at the state capitol yesterday, the House and Senate Appropriations Committees heard a plea by the Pennsylvania Hospital Association for a $28,500,000 grant in financial aid to hospitals for the 1949-51 biennium.

The amount, if approved by lawmakers, would be $17,000,000 more than the 1947-49 appropriation.

Robert W. Gloman, of Wilkes-Barre, asked the appropriations group to provide $21,500,000 for free hospital service, an increase of $9,250,000.

At the same time, he requested the state to provide $7,000,000 for out-patient (dispensary) care and $1,000,000 for nurses training schools. The state provides no financial assistance currently for either.

Wilson Heads Dairymen Here

Annual Meeting Held Wednesday Evening By Improvement Association

At the annual meeting of the Lawrence County Dairy Herd Improvement Association, held Wednesday evening in the Y.M.C.A., Joe Wilson, of Big Beaver township, was re-elected president for the coming year, with Glenn Patterson, of Hickory township, vice president; and Aubrey Reno of Big Beaver township, secretary. Other directors named, were Wayne M. Walker, of Little Beaver township; and George Kendall, of Neshannock township.

Awards were given for high herd production and for high cows at the meeting, and the address of the evening was given by Joe Mageotte, Dairy Specialist from Penn State College, who discussed dairy, stable, and barn planning, particularly in regard to ventilation, and other approved dairy practices.

The election took place following the close of the meeting.

Asks Court Order Alabama Electoral Votes For Truman

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Gov. James E. Folsom of Alabama asked the supreme court today to order Alabama's delegates to the electoral college to vote for President Truman.

Folsom acted in an effort to block the 11 electors from voting for the Thurmond-Wright states' rights ticket, as they have pledged to do.

After at first refusing the case, the high court allowed it to be put on its docket. However, the court refused to permit Folsom to file papers asking for a review of a U. S. district court's rejection of his suit.

Court officials ruled that the petition for review cannot be filed until Folsom goes through the formality of placing an appeal with the U. S. circuit court of appeals.

Mental Health To Be Discussed

"Mental Health; What It Is and How to Maintain It," will be the subject of a lecture by Dr. George H. Preston, commissioner of mental health for the state of Maryland Thursday evening in the Westminster college chapel.

Dr. Preston will also speak at both morning and afternoon student assemblies.

He was superintendent of the Georgia Training School for Mental Defectives from 1921 to 1924, and psychiatrist at the Children's Memorial Clinic at Richmond, Va., from 1924 to 1928. He has been in his present position since 1928.

He is the author of two books, "The Substance of Mental Health" and "Psychiatry for Curious".

Body Of Missing Youth Is Found

Body Of Maurice Jepson, 29, Found Near Wheeling, W. Va.; Was Bethany Student

Maurice Jepson, 29, a student of Bethany College, and son of Mr. and Mrs. John Jepson, 512 Hillcrest avenue, who has been missing since November 1, was found in Buffalo creek, near Wheeling, W. Va.

Mr. Jepson was notified Wednesday evening, that the body of his son was found and both he and Mrs. Jepson have departed for Wellsburg, West Va., where the funeral will be held.

Police from three states were instructed to search for the youth soon after he was reported missing. Their search proved futile however.

According to Mr. Jepson, his son had gone on a hike alone, and it is believed that he fell from a cliff into the creek. There was a huge gash on his head, which indicated that he had probably fallen.

Jepson a former service man in the U. S. Navy, had been an instructor in electronics in the Navy. He had also taken part in the atom bomb program at Bikini.

Funeral services will probably be conducted Friday.

Word Of Former Resident's Death

Word has been received of the death of Mrs. Miriam Rab, of Indianapolis, Ind., on November 27 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Morris Fiteman, Philadelphia. Mrs. Rab was the widow of Harry Rabinovitz, a resident of New Castle until the time of his death.

Mrs. Rab leaves two children, a daughter, Mrs. Fiteman, and one son, Jack Rab, of Indianapolis. She was a sister-in-law of Mrs. Eliah Kaplan of this city.

Funeral services were conducted Sunday in Indianapolis.

Navy Recruiters Tops In District

For the second consecutive month, the New Castle Navy recruiting substation has led all similar stations in the Pittsburgh district.

According to Chief S. E. Bond of the local station, 22 men were enlisted at this office last month for a three-year term and four others enlisted under the Navy's one-year plan.

CHILD BITTEN ON CHEEK

When four year old, Jane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Robinson, 221 Northview avenue, attempted to take a bone from their dog yesterday the canine bit her on her cheek. She was attended by a physician and the dog was placed on leash for observation, according to police report.

TRUCK TRACTOR FOUND

International truck tractor stolen yesterday from the Norwalk Lines, South Beaver street, was found by Policemen Haering and Reese last night in Atlantic avenue, police report.

STEAL TOASTER FROM TRUCK

Allan Jones, New Bedford, operator of a Youngstown, O., truck, said a Barton toaster was stolen from the cab of his truck while it was parked on East Washington street Wednesday evening.

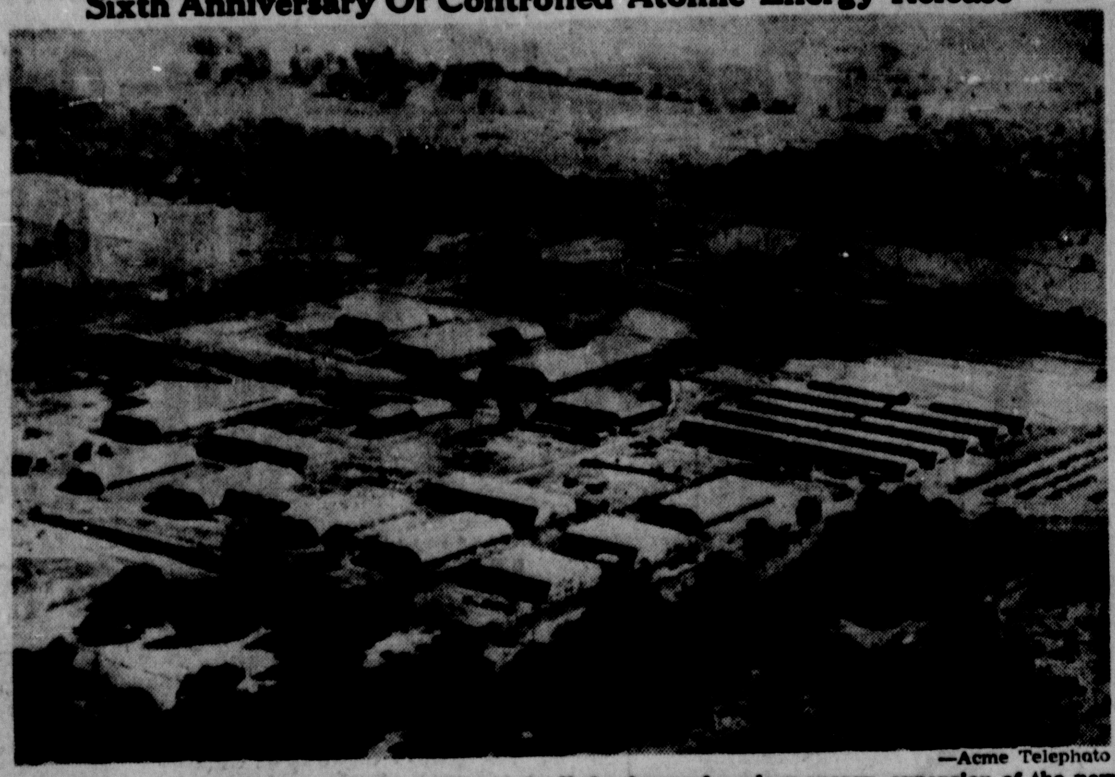
Sixth Anniversary Of Controlled Atomic Energy Release



—Acme Telephoto

On the sixth anniversary, today, of the controlled release of nuclear energy, expansion of the new process, physicially, has increased from a concrete structure built on a squash court at the University of Chicago to this 8-acre, 33-building unit of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission's Quonset-Housed Argonne National Laboratory near Chicago.

Carbon Monoxide Warning Issued

Motorists Urged To Take Precautions When Motor Is Running In Closed Vehicles

HARRISBURG.—Beware of carbon monoxide during cold weather spells, motorists were advised today by T. Elmer Transeau, Director of Highway Safety.

"This colorless, odorless gas probably has proved a contributory cause in more wintertime accidents than we realize," Transeau declared. "Especially on rather long trips at night, drivers sometimes may become more drowsy than ordinarily due to carbon monoxide fumes seeping into the vehicle through faulty floorboards."

Car owners were warned not to warm up their vehicles in closed garages, and not to run the motor of a stationary vehicle for any great length of time. Even in the most brisk weather, one window even slightly opened while driving will allow entrance of needed fresh air to prevent driver-drowsiness.

Transeau added these rules for preventing auto accidents and traffic tie-ups.

1. Keep the windshield and windows free of frost, snow and ice—to assure adequate visibility.
2. Be sure the lighting system is functioning properly, for lights sometimes are needed even on dark days as well as at night.
3. Avoid sudden starting or stopping on slippery surfaces.
4. Get to know the 'feel" of the road; apply brakes lightly, intermittenly.
5. Always carry tire chains in your car, so that you have them ready for use when severe ice or snow conditions prevail.
6. Keep a safe distance from the vehicle ahead of you, so that a sudden skid on his part will not force you to become a second party to an acident.
7. Keep in mind that many pedestrians do not realize how much longer distance is required for stopping your car in winter than in summer, therefore reduce speed well before reaching intersections. Also slow down before curves and be extra careful to allow plenty of time and space to pass another vehicle.
8. Keep all of your vehicle's safety equipment in faultless condition for winter use.

BURGLARS GET NOTHING

Edward Schweinsberg of Schweinsberg and Shelar, Neshannock avenue, reported to city police last night, that, on the night preceding someone entered their place, but as far as known, nothing was stolen. To enter, the burglars broke a rear window, leaving by a side door which they left open.

First U. P. Societies Banquet At Church

Delightful was the banquet enjoyed Wednesday evening by the Pioneer and Builder societies in First U. P. church. The function was for young people from the age of 12 to 18 years.

After a tasty dinner was served at tables decorated in the Christmas theme, greetings were given by Bill Shewman, president of the Builders; Eddie McNamara, president of the Pioneers, and Miss Virginia Rogers, of the young people's choir. Singing was led by David Rees with Ermel Branstetter serving as accompanist.

Rev. Harold H. McConnell Jr., pastor of Blairsville U. P. church, spoke of his experiences as a chaplain in prison barracks during World War II. He urged the young people to have a greater recognition of the abiding presence of God and to take advantage of the opportunities for service. Mrs. Robert H. Mayo conducted a period of games and entertainment after Rev. McConnell's talk.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Genkinger, sponsors of the Pioneers, and Jay White, adviser of the Builders, were special guests.

Mrs. Burr M. Rogers, general chairman of the successful evening, was assisted by Mrs. Pearl Morrow, Mrs. E. D. Hawk, Mrs. Ralph Spears, Mrs. W. R. Fullerton and Mrs. A. H. Borland. Mrs. Glen Carpenter, Mrs. Edward McNamara, Mrs. Donald McFall, Mrs. Harry C. Dinsmore and Mrs. Grace B. White composed the dining room committee.

Photographers File Charges

Man Describing Himself As Movie Producer Is Held At Sharon

SHARON, Dec. 2.—Two Sharon district photographers filed charges against a man describing himself as a movie producer for failure to pay them for work performed while in his hire.

The informations were filed by R. L. McCormack, of R. D. 2, Sharon, and Ernest Reagle, of R. D. 1, Sharon, who said they were employed by Joseph G. Kelley, 50, to take movies of local scenes which later would be shown in theaters here.

Arraigned before Alderman A. C. Lewis, Mr. Kelly pleaded guilty to the charges which are covered by the Commonwealth's "refusing to pay wages" act. He was ordered to pay a fine of $100 and costs on each charge, or to spend one day in jail for each dollar of the combined fines and costs.

Mr. Kelly, who was living in a downtown hotel when he was placed under arrest, was held pending further investigation.

The motion pictures authorized by Mr. Kelley were to be used as a part of an advertising feature which would be shown in local motion picture houses at a later date, according to police. They said they understood he already had contacted a number of Sharon business men and accepted payments from some in exchange for including scenes of their establishments in the film.

U. S. Trade In Pacific Should Be Put First

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Rear Admiral Giles Stedman, (retired), vice president of the United States lines, warned today that America's trade interests should come first in the rebuilding of post-war shipping in the Pacific.

Japan, in his opinion, should not be allowed to restore her merchant marine on the high seas to the txtent that she would again be in sharp competition with the lines of American companies, as was the case prior to World War II.

Admiral Stedman, who is in charge of the Far East activities of the U. S. lines, said in an interview, that for years prior to the war, the American steamship lines had to fight to survive in the Pacific because of competition from foreign nations.

Should Have Real Change

"Now that we have the opportunity, I'd like to see us have a real chance to survive," he asserted.

"I am opposed to the United States helping build up the merchant marine of any foreign nation. These nations operate their ships cheaper than we do.

"Before the United States sets up any other nation, it should first consider, our own position. Unquestionably, we should have a large merchant marine—if for no other reason than it would be a good precaution in the event of an emergency."

Admiral Stedman said he is in agreement with the position of the Federation of American Shipping which is opposed to allowing Japan 4,200,000 tons of ocean shipping, as recommended by the Draper commission.

Gen. Eisenhower Knows His Onions

Discloses Recipe For Putting Together Tangy Homemade Vegetable Soup

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower knows his onions. He proved it today by disclosing his recipe for putting together a tangy homemade vegetable soup.

The recipe appeared in the new edition of "What's Cooking At Columbia," put together by Columbia University professors and executives.

Here is University President Eisenhower's strategy for an "attack" on the gas-range:

"The best time to make vegetable soup is a day or so after you have had fried chicken, out of which you have saved the necks, ribs and back, uncooked.

"The bigger the meat bone the better.

"To chicken or beef bones add a teaspoon of salt, a bit of black pepper, and if you prefer, a touch of garlic."

He continues:

"In a separate pan, a third of a teacupful of barley should be cooked. Rice can be used if the family chef is out of barley, but it's a poor substitute.

"Here are the ingredients I like in the soup:

"One quart canned tomatoes; one-half cup peas or cut green beans; two potatoes diced; three branches celery; one large sliced onion; three large carrots diced; one turnip diced; one-half cup canned corn, and one handful raw cabbage chopped."

"Ike" suggests as a final touch, there's nothing like adding some green, tender, naturtium stems.

MATCH 'EM UP

A new twist in refurbishing the home is matching window drapes and fiberglas base lampshades of the same fabric patterns. The lampshades consist of printed fabrics laminated on the fiberglas base so that the shade exactly matches drapery materials. The shades are moisture-resistant, mildew-proof and snag-resistant.

Philadelphia Girl Is Fatally Burned

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Joan Durst, nine, died in a Philadelphia hospital Wednesday of burns received when a book of matches set fire to her dress.

The dress became ignited when the girl dropped the matches which flared suddenly as she attempted to set fire to a pile of trash in front of her home.

Her father threw a rug around her and summoned a physician. She died several hours later in Frankford hospital.

PARIS—France started to build a canal across the Isthmus of Panama in 1879, but failed. Thereafter the U.S. bought French interests.

New U. S. Goals Set For Farmers

Hundred Billion Pounds Of Milk And Millions Of Poultry Replacements Urged

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—(INS)—The government today asked farmers to set their sights for 120 billion pounds of milk and 700 million young chickens for poultry flock replacements in 1949.

The Agriculture Department, fixing crop goals for next year, also called for more stock sheep and lambs, sweet potatoes, legume and grass seeds and tame hay.

Announcement of the department's 1949 crop program is to come in piecemeal fashion, with today's recommendations being merely a first installment.

The program calls for continued high-level production of summer vegetables. It suggests somewhat smaller acreages of rice and flaxseed.

If milk production reaches the 120-billion-pound goal it would represent a three per cent increase over 1948 production.

Since dairy herd replacements will be limited, most of the gain would have to come from stepping up this year's output per cow, already at a record of more than 5,000 pounds.

To aid in this accomplishment, liberal feed supplies are already in sight for the first half of next year.

The goal of 700 million young chickens is a ten per cent increase over the number raised in 1948.

Agriculture officials believe this would provide 273 million pullets and a total laying flock of 405 million birds by Jan. 1, 1950.

Some earthworms in Australia grow 10 or 12 feet long and are three-quarters of an inch wide. The average length, however, is three or four feet.

When Abraham Lincoln, at the age of 50, gave a description of himself, he said: "If any personal description of me is thought desirable, it may be said that I am in height six feet four inches nearly; lean in flesh, weighing on an average 186 pounds; dark in complexion, with coarse black hair, and gray eyes. No marks or brands recollected."

Speaker Tells Of China's Need

Former I. C. Officer Warns Of Communist Danger, Before Executives Club

In an address before members of the New Castle Executives club at the monthly dinner meeting in The Castleton, Wednesday evening, Malcolm Rosholt, former newspaper correspondent in China, who served as a liaison officer to General Chenault during the late war, warned of the danger of Communist domination of China, growing out of the present civil war there. He stated that in spite of all that has been said, General Chiang Kai-shek is a competent leader, and that China's cause is a most worthy one.

Mr. Rosholt spoke from his own experiences during the war, and stated that the Japs were never able to capture a single American officer shot down behind the lines, in spite of tremendous bribes offered the Chinese. The Chinese Nationalists were intensely loyal, and cooperated 100 per cent with the American forces during the war.

Told Of Agreement

He told of an agreement which was made during the war between the Communist and Nationalist forces, to prosecute the war against the Japs. He said that all through the war, they were recruiting and building up their forces, awaiting V-J Day to open hostilities against the Nationalist forces. This battle in China, he stated, has been going on for 21 years.

If the Communists win out in China, then all our efforts against the Japs in the Pacific area have been merely wasted effort, money and the lives of many brave American soldiers.

He traced the history of Chiang Kai-shek, whom he stated is a Russian-trained soldier, but many years ago realised the aims of Russia in China, and set about to combat them. The leader of the Communist forces, he stated, is like any other Communist and gets his orders from Moscow.

Mr. Rosholt was introduced by Dr. W. E. Flannery, who was presented by President Orville Flora. Mr. Flora announced the next dinner meeting as of January 21, when the speaker will be Philip Cummings, who has traveled extensively in Australia, the South Seas and other foreign spots, and has served as consultant to the United States government.

The reception committee on this occasion will be composed of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond F. Horchler, Attorney and Mrs. Alvah M. Shumaker and Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Shewman.

MAN INJURES FOOT

Albert Debehk, aged 63 years, of Moravia street extension, suffered lacerations of the third and fourth toes of the left foot when a wheelbarrow tipped over while at work at the plant of the New Castle Refractories company on Wednesday morning. He was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital.

FAB with SUPER-WETTING ACTION
washes everything
FASTER, CLEANER, WHITER, BRIGHTER than any soap...in hardest water!

INSTANT RICH SUDS IN HARDEST WATER

It's fabulous the way you'll save time and work with this new washday discovery from the Colgate-Palmolive-Peet laboratories! Even extra-dirty wash gets extra-clean!

Super-Wetting Action, a new scientific washing principle. When you wash, FAB penetrates materials faster and more thoroughly...pushes dirt out!

Rich suds ... no soap scum ... in hardest water! Yes, rich suds to get clothes extra-clean... and no "graying" soap scum. Wash gets whiter, cleaner with FAB.

NEW INGREDIENT GETS WHITE WASH WHITER... colors brighter!

Yes, a *fab*ulous new ingredient in FAB gets white wash whiter ... colors brighter and clearer. And, besides, there is no soap scum to "yellow" white wash or "gray" colors. FAB also removes dulling soap scum left by previous soap launderings.

Even grimiest overalls, work and play clothes get cleaner faster with FAB with Super-Wetting Action!

Faster And Better for all family wash and dishes

Man Injured In Fall From Roof

John K. Hostettler, aged 27 years, of R. D. 5, suffered serious injuries, when he fell from a second story roof, while at work, three miles north of New Castle on the Old New Wilmington road Wednesday morning.

Mr. Hostettler alighted on both feet, but suffered fractures of both heel hones and the bones of the arch of the left foot.

He was taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital, where he was admitted for treatment.

RAILROAD WORKER SUFFERS INJURIES

Christian Ungar, aged 66 years, of 305 Sheridan avenue, suffered contusions of the knee and bruises of the left knee, while at work at the car department of the Pennsylvania Railroad company on November 30, when a wheelbarrow, loaded with tools, tipped over. He received treatment for the injury late Tuesday morning at the Jameson Memorial hospital.

The Mason-Dixon Line was surveyed between 1763 and 1767 to settle constant dissensions between Lord Baltimore and the Penn family.

Hoffman Says Marshall Plan Working Well

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—Paul G. Hoffman, chief of the Economic Cooperation Administration, declared the Marshall Plan "is working" and is proving a vital factor in the maintenance of world peace.

In a speech before the 53rd annual Congress of American Industry at the Waldorf-Astoria, Hoffman gave a comprehensive report of the working accomplishments of ECA in the 16 western European nations.

ECA, he said, has boosted production of coal, coke, steel, electric power and other industrial factors in the Marshall Plan countries.

Hoffman asserted a new spirit of cooperation has developed in Europe as a direct result of the Marshall Plan, offering "our best hope of peace."

"It is the fact of Marshall Plan aid which is giving to the free peoples of Europe a continuing determination to resist totalitarianism and remain free," he declared.

After citing evidence that "the Marshall Plan is working," Hoffman observed that perhaps more persuasive than that evidence "is the extreme effort at sabotage that the Communist agents of the Soviet union are making against it."

Hoffman told the assembled business men and industrialists that "wrecking the Marshall Plan is the number one objective of Communism in Europe."

"The recent coal strike in France is a good example of the lengths to which the Soviet Union is pushing its agents in foreign countries to block European recovery," he said.

STEPS ON NAIL

Lloyd Clark, eight-year-old son of Lloyd Clark, Sr., of R. D. 6, Butler road, was injured Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, when he stepped upon a rusty nail. He was treated for a puncture of the right foot at the New Castle hospital, and later discharged.

Creates Complete Santa Claus Town

Special Trains To Carry Children To Maryland Town On December 11

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—(INS)—He had to buy a Maryland town and hire two railroad trains to do it, but Harry Heim has finally created a complete Santa Claus town for children.

Heim, a manufacturer of Christmas tree ornaments, plans to change the name of the town from Savage, Md., to Santa Heim on Dec. 11, when Maryland Gov. William Preston Lane officially dedicates it to Christmas.

On that day, two special Baltimore and Ohio trains will carry an estimamted 2,000 mothers and children to the town to see a partially-mechanized Santa Claus and a wonderland of Christmas tradition.

Santa plans to arrive on opening day in a helicopter, but will transfer shortly afterward to a sleigh drawn by eight real, live reindeer.

Found In Mountains

The reindeer, incidentally, were found in the Catskill mountains.

Christmas carols will be piped all over the town. More than 28,000 colored lights will twinkle along the streets. Nativity tableaux will be on display. And a 20-foot illuminated star will shine from Heim's 200-foot high factory.

Youngsters will be whisked through town on miniature trains. There will be puppets, magicians and an animated circus which includes a 12-foot high elephant. There will be 200-decorated Christmas trees on the streets.

Heim, a former Baltimore brewery owner, is delighted with his achievement. The town cost him $450,000 last summer. When his Christmas town is complete, he estimates that it will have cost five million dollars.

He confesses to only one worry. He wants it made very clear to the children that Santa Heim is only Santa's home away from home.

Actually, Heim says, the white-bearded old man lives in the North Pole.

But he spends his two-week vacation in Maryland, getting acquainted with the folks.

WORLD'S LARGEST TANKER

HOBOKEN, N. J.—(INS)—Model tests for what will be the largest tanker in the world recently were completed at the Experimental Towing Tank at Stevens Institute of Technology. The tanker will be the fourth largest commercial ship now afloat, surpassed in size by only the Queen Mary, Queen Elizabeth and Europa, respectively.

HORSES SLAUGHTERED

LONDON.—(INS)—An impassioned appeal to save Britain's horses from slaughter for black market purposes was made recently by Harold Sutcliffe, member in the House of Commons. Sutcliffe charged that since January 1945, 162,654 horses have been slaughtered for horse meat.

Father And Son Are Being Sought To Face Charges

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Authorities today were looking for a father and son who faced grand jury action in connection with business reverses of their firm.

They are Bertram Unger and his son, Erwin Unger. The father is president of the Cello-Plastic Chemical Co., in Pittsburgh.

The Ungers are charged with defrauding employes of more than $5,000 and with creating conditions whereby the firms has assets of $32,000 as against liabilities of $58,000.

Alderman Leonard Civill said Wednesday that he would submit evidence to the grand jury to show that the Ungers had issued bad checks and failed to pay employes' wages.

A constable has been unable to serve the pair with warrants charging false pretense, Alderman Civill said. He added they have "obviously fled town".

The territory which is now comprised by the states of California, Nevada, Utah, part of Colorado, and the greater parts of New Mexico and Arizona were acquired by the United States as a result of the Mexican War. The United States paid Mexico $15,000,000 for this territory.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

How To Relieve Bronchitis

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

CREOMULSION
for Coughs, Chest Colds, Bronchitis

SICK!

STOMACH AILMENTS, WEAK KIDNEYS, RHEUMATIC PAINS, ARTHRITIS, NEURITIS

and such complaints as Headaches, Nervousness, Acids, Toxins, Bloating, Lack of Vitality, Energy, Poor Appetite Underweight, Dizzy Spells.

Drugless Health

IF YOU ARE a sufferer of these ailments, try GEO-MINERAL. You may be astounded at the results. GEO-MINERAL comes from the earth—Nature's Laboratory. Contains NO alcohol, NO preservatives, NO oil, NO harmful drugs, NO dope—is NOT habit forming. Contains ONLY Nature's minerals, the oldest, most reliable remedy for rheumatism, arthritis, kidney and stomach ailments—highly recommended by the medical profession.

GEO-MINERAL will enrich your blood, help to make you strong, full of pep, life and energy. Lack of minerals in the blood causes anemia, headaches, nervousness. Minerals generate mental brilliancy, give sparkling eyes, red cheeks, fight disease, build up health.

Rich Red Blood

MEDICAL records show 68% of men and women over 35 suffer from nutritional iron anemia. When you feel nervous, dull, lazy, have dizzy spells, no ambition to work or play, a poor appetite, feel blue, when your eyes lack that bright spark, and your mind brilliance, when headaches get the best of you, and you feel old before your time, and life seems not worth living, with worry wearing you down—it may be simply lack of minerals in your blood. GEO-MINERAL is then what you need.

Wonder Minerals

RHEUMATISM, arthritis are dreadful diseases. Acid condition in the blood is often their cause. What could be the remedy? For thousands of years, minerals have been used to relieve the pain and suffering of these ills. People, on the advice of doctors, go to mineral springs to find cure, or relief. The most important of our people, including doctors, go to mineral springs. They would not patronize regularly these springs without any benefit.

YEAR after year, people rush to mineral springs and spas, to drink and bathe in their miraculous water. We have all heard of the wondrous springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thronion in ancient Greece where, according to legend Hercules, the god of eternal strength and youth, drank its waters and bathed to be forever young.

Amazing Results

GEO-MINERAL contains minerals found in the world's best springs. Watch the results a day or two after using it. The housecleaning it will do in your body, the poisons it will bring out. When you see this, do not get alarmed—thank Nature who created Geo-Mineral as a sign that the medicine is working on you, and realize its priceless value.

GEO-MINERAL is not a physic and does not interfere with the foods in the stomach. It cleans and purifies the intestines, thoroughly relieving gas, toxins, acids, and bloating. After these poisons are out of the system and the kidneys purified, we begin to feel the arthritis, rheumatism leaving as Nature starts to complete the recovery.

100% Guaranteed!

WE URGE everyone to try GEO-MINERAL. Do not hesitate one moment. Go to your drug store now. Get one bottle. Use it one week. If you are not 100 per cent satisfied, we will refund your money.

REGARDLESS of how long you have been suffering, and how many medicines you have tried before, GEO-MINERAL may be the remedy you need!

TRY it today! It may do wonders for you—and be the best investment for your health. Make you feel, eat, sleep, work and enjoy life better.

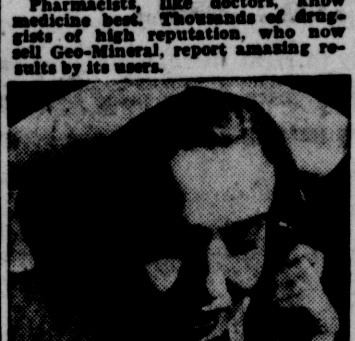
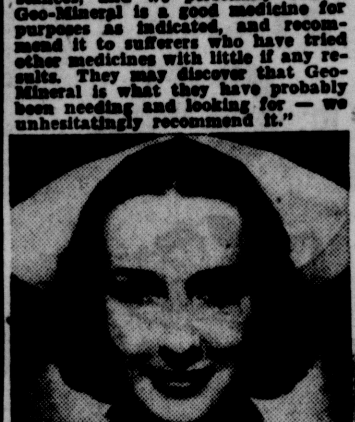
Read What They Say!

Pharmacists, like doctors, know medicine best. Thousands of druggists of high reputation, who now sell Geo-Mineral, report amazing results by its users.



"We have sold Geo-Mineral for the last six months and it has been one of the best selling drug items we have ever handled"—say Porter Bros., pharmacists of Concord, N. C. "Users report amazing results in many instances, and we personally believe Geo-Mineral is a good medicine for purposes as indicated, and recommend it to sufferers who have tried other medicines with little if any results. They may discover that Geo-Mineral is what they have probably been needing and looking for — we unhesitatingly recommend it."



"We wish to state that after selling Geo-Mineral for eight months, this product has broken all sales records in the medicine line in our drug store"—reports Jack Wright, owner of Economy Drug Co., Anderson, S. C. "Users report almost miraculous results, helping sufferers with rheumatism, arthritis, weak kidneys, and various stomach ailments. We believe that there exist very few items on the druggists' shelf with the merit of this natural mineral medicine. Of thousands of bottles sold on guarantee basis, there have been very few refunds.

"We not only sell Geo-Mineral"—says G. A. Littlefield, Manager of Smith's Drug Store, Gastonia, N. C.—"but as pharmacists, we know good medicine, and we believe there is none better than Geo-Mineral as a supplement for mineral deficiency. Doctors, hospitals, sanatoriums know the value of natural minerals. We are not surprised at the many users who came back to buy more and told us stories of amazing benefit. We recommend it to our friends, relatives, and beloved ones, and to every one wishing for better health."

Development Of Alaska On U. S. Program

By JAMES LEE
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—Secretary of the Interior Krug disclosed today that the Truman administration is "ready to roll" on all-out development of Alaska as an economic and military bulwark.

The cabinet member made the statement in an exclusive interview with International News Service. Krug pinpointed the interior department's chief objectives for the coming four years.

He declared that with a "friendly congress" in power, 1949 probably will see Alaska and Hawaii admitted to the union as the 49th and 50th states.

The secretary added:

"We're really ready to roll on the economic development of Alaska. We plan complete rehabilitation of the Alaska railroad, construction of a huge road network, and projects designed to tap vast storehouses of mineral and other resources.

Establish Industries

"The time has come for establishment of many basic industries in Alaska—such as pulp and paper plants.

"The interior department is working hand-in-hand with the military on the Alaska program. The territory is vital to our national security. Our experience in World War II proved that it must be populated, that communications facilities must be created, and that it must be made economically powerful".

Krug indicated that congress will be asked to open Alaska's gates to thousands of European displaced persons.

He pointed out that many DP's are fitted, by reason of national background and vocational training, to live healthily and prosperously in Alaska.

Other Objectives

Other objectives listed by Krug in the interview, which followed closely upon the secretary's conference with President Truman included:

1. A long-range reclamation program involving such major projects as the Missouri basin plan, the Columbia Valley, and the Colorado basin.
2. Creation of valley authorities modeled after the TVA, assuring benefits from "tremendous opportunities" in the Missouri, Columbia, Colorado, St. Lawrence and Rio Grande river areas.
3. Full-speed work on aluminum and magnesium developments which can relieve the drain on steel and other vital materials.
4. A thorough survey of the nation's coal situation, for the first time since 1900, to determine with precise accuracy what the United States can count on in its coal supply for the future.
5. Zealous development of all sources of petroleum, including particularly those in South American and Caribbean areas, to which the United States must look for supplements to the domestic petroleum supply.
6. New achievements in the field of synthetic liquid fuel.

Golis Was Aboard Train In Wreck

John P. Golis, son of City Policeman John J. Golis, of 1706 Morris street, was a passenger on the B&O passenger train which was sideswiped near Niles, O., Tuesday night.

Mr. Golis had been visiting his father here after completing his "boot" training in the naval school at Great Lakes, Ill. His furlough was up and he was returned to his post. He is a seaman first class. In a telegram to Mr. Golis his son said he was shaken up but not injured.

He will og to Memphis, Tenn., to enter the school in aeronautics.

Father Divine Buys Philadelphia Hotel

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 2.—(INS)—The 250-room Lorraine hotel in north Philadelphia was opened today to the followers of Father Divine "and the general public" following announcement of its purchase by the cult for $485,000.

The well-known hostelry was taken over last night when Father Divine, his wife and 24 "disciples" moved in.

Father Divine announced that "the hotel will be open to everyone," and that there would be two sections—one for male guests and one for the female guests.

"It will be run on a Christian basis," he said. "There will be no drinking, no smoking and no profanity."

A snake's poison is never carried in its tongue, often erroneously called its "stinger."

Says Mexican Farm Laborers Held In Peonage

EL PASO, Tex., Dec. 2.—(INS) — A U. S. Immigration official charged today that the 100,000 Mexican farm laborers now in Texas illegally are being forced to work "in a virtual state of peonage".

Grover C. Wilmouth, district director of the U. S. Immigration and Naturalization services at El Paso, asserted that the blacklisting of Texas by the Mexican government is "the chief bar to getting fair treatment for Mexicans in the U.S."

The immigration official asserted that the action "just plays into the hands of the farmers who exploit labor."

Wilmouth explained that the prevailing wage is what the laborers are forced to accept and that this naturally leads to exploitation.

He said wages are forced down and that since Mexicans are illegal immigrants they do not have recourse to legal protection such as that given contract workers.

Sees Solution Plan

Wilmouth believes that the solution to the problem would be for Mexico and the United States to make an agreement with a fair wage as an integral part of the treaty in return for the removal of the blacklisting.

The director said that if there were no blacklisting farmers and ranchers would be forced to take labor on contract and wages would adjust upward. He asserted: "The United States must insist it be treated as a unit rather than as separate states."

He explained that the 300-man border patrol can not prevent Mexicans from crossing the 900-mile border because too much territory must be covered with insufficient personnel.

However, he pointed out that arrests of the illegal immigrants are increasing. In July 14,500 were arrested while in October approximately 36,500 were seized.

The immigration chief emphasized that one method for reducing illegal border crossing would be for the Mexican government to prohibit farm laborers from coming to the border for purposes of crossing.

Wilmouth estimated it would cut border violations by about 75 per cent.

Warn Veterans On Government Loans

HARRISBURG, Dec. 2.—(INS) —Veterans were reminded today that money owed to the federal government for overpayments on G. I. benefits or defaulted loans must be repaid.

State Commander H. V. Hartman of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, warned that "whatever amounts are owed will be deducted from the insurance dividend mellon to be cut next year for GI-policy holders."

Staggering Sum

Hartman said approximately 600,000 veterans in the nation owe the government an estimated $52,000,000 in overpayments.

The total includes approximately 15,000 in the Pittsburgh district, 13,000 in the Philadelphia district, and 3000 in the Wilkes-Barre-Scranton area.

Overpayments generally were made by the Veterans Administration through failure of employers or educational institutions to notify the VA that veterans had completed or interrupted education or training, according to Hartman.

An estimated two million dollar surplus in GI insurance dividends is expected to be distributed to policy holders within a year, he said.

B-G BROTHERS

BOWLING GREEN, O., (INS)— Johnny Antonelli, the $75,000 pitching package purchased by the Boston Braves last summer is devoting his off season time to college work at Bowling Green State University. Young Johnny's brother Tony also is included in the 4525 B-G enrollment.

Sudden Vision Of Mother Brings His Memory Back

WINDSOR, Ont., Dec. 2.—(INS) —A sudden vision of his mother brought back of memory today of a 38-year-old American whose mind had been shattered by a German bomb of 1942.

John Kronix, formerly of Kempton, W. Va., sought the help of Windsor authorities to enable him to return home. He said he has been jobless and penniless since his release from a Canadian veteran's hospital several years ago.

The former coal miner told officials that he enlisted in the U. S. Army in 1940 and later obtained a transfer to Canadian forces in England.

In Attack On Dieppe

He said he was attached to a Canadian suicide squad during a diversionary attack on Dieppe. He said his group of 36 were left on the beach during the retreat and that for 10 days they went without food while being subject to straffing by German bombers.

A bomb exploded near him and he said the next thing he remembered was a German prison camp in the spring of 1943. He said he had constant pains in his head and had developed a speech impediment. He was liberated at the end of the war and was hospitalized for some time in England.

"Last night as I was about to go to sleep in my roominghouse I suddenly saw my mother's face," he related to authorities. "Then everything came back to me."

Kronik said he immediately phoned his 68-year-old mother and was able to convince her that he still is alive. He said he promised to return home as soon as he was able to earn enough money.

Police said that Kronik carried a West Virginia birth certificate which he said he could never believe belonged to him.

The most common form of city government in the United States is the mayor-council, originated in colonial times.

Undetermined Fire Damages High School

SCRANTON, Pa., Dec. 2.—(INS) —A 15-room high school in nearby Dupont was in ruins today in the wake of a fire of undetermined origin which caused damage estimated at $200,000.

Seventy two students marched to safety when the blaze was discovered at 4 p. m. and firemen battled the flames for more than seven hours. Three hundred students had left the building shortly before the fire was discovered in the basement.

PRE-HISTORIC SKULL

LONDON, (INS)—The skull of a prehistoric ape estimated to be between 20 and 25 million years old arrived in England from South Africa. It was brought to London by Mrs. Mary Leakey, wife of the English archaeologist, Dr. Louis Seymour B. Leakey. Dr. Leakey is the leader of the "British Kenya Miocene Expedition."

Sanitary Talk Given Canners At Harrisburg

Reveal Sanitation In State Canning Industry Has Shown Marked Improvement

HARRISBURG, Dec. 2.—(INS) —The eating public today had a reminder that its champion, the State Bureau of Foods and Chemistry, was keeping close tabs on sanitation of canning plants.

W. S. Hagar, acting director of the Foods and Chemistry bureau, told the 34th annual convention of the Pennsylvania Canners association at Harrisburg that sanitation in canning plants has "shown a marked improvement in many plants" and urged continued high quality sanitary practices.

The "remarkable growth" of the canning industry in Pennsylvania was reflected in an over 300 per cent increase in the five major vegetable canning crops grown by the state's farmers, Hagar said.

"Lima beans made a gain of 2,100 per cent, peas 784 per cent and tomatoes 915 per cent," Hagar said underlining the outstanding gains in the past 20 years.

"Pennsylvania ranks fourth in the annual value of all fruits and vegetables processed through canning and freezing," he added.

"Expansion has taken place not only in acreage planted in our older producing areas of Lancaster, York, Adams, Franklin, Bucks and Erie counties," Hagar said, "but, several new and important areas have developed in Chester, Lehigh, Centre, Snyder, Lebanon, Somerset, Northumberland and other counties."

Record Holiday Sales Are Being Forecasted

PHILADELPHIT, Dec. 2—(INS)—The weary salesgirl pushed back a stray lock and remarked:

"The kids can have anything they want this Christmas except an atom bomb!"

That sums up the situation in Philadelphia's toy departments where you can buy anything from a candy cane to a log cabin (ready for occupancy)—if you have the price.

To Break Record

And, like it or not, the chances are that you will be among those who will help break a $300,000,000 retail sales record because you are going to get more for your dollars than at any time since the war.

Toy manufacturers say you are going to buy more than ever because, despite the increase in price of raw materials, you can expect to find twice the number of low and medium priced toys this yuletide.

The emphasis on 1948 toys, oddly enough, isn't on the atomic and jet-propelled. Blame it on the peacetime draft or what you will, the fact remains that there is a decided return to gadgets emphasizing the constructive.

And this calls into play most of the pre-Pearl Harbor toys, but with plenty of new twists so that they are even more fun today.

Again high on the youngsters' hit parade are the erector sets which cost anywhere from a couple of dollars to a couple of ten dollar bills.

There are miniature printing presses on which the young editor can print a neighborhood newspaper, and there's enough cowboy gear to outfit the most elaborate juvenile ranch.

Can Have Log Cabin

The budding Lincoln can have his own log cabin—if pop can afford the $55 price tag. It comes complete with chintz curtains, rough hewn chair and table and no floor.

Little mothers have much to cheer about in this year's crop of dolls. They cry, they eat, they have to be changed, and you can even wash their hair. The price ranges from $55 tops to anything you care to pay.

The tots can enjoy swings selling at $6.95 and if pop is free with the shekels he can buy them a complete outdoor set including a see-saw and a 10 foot slide, the latter for $49.50.

You can get a miniature lumberyard complete with building blueprints, and your young housewife can have a completely equipped kitchen, including an electric toaster in miniature.

Added to these are the regular standbys doing excellent business at reasonable prices. These include bicycles, train sets (guaranteed to make daddy delirious), fairy tales on records, and books with such intriguing titles as "Brenda Starr, Reporter", "Wynken, Blynken and Nod!" And beautiful editions of Tom Sawyer.

Bethel Baptists To Hear Bible Students

Students' League Of Many Nations To Conduct Service Here Sunday

Students' League of Many Nations of Practical Bible Training school, Bible School Park, N. Y., will offer a program Sunday evening, December 5, at 7:45 o'clock in Bethel Baptist church, Cunningham at Long avenue.

Sunday's program, which is "The Greatest One Night Service in America Today," has been given over 6,000 times and has been heard by 2,000,000 people.

Members of the group who will be dressed in native costumes, will speak or sing in native languages with translations.

No one is under legal obligation to bear the name of his parents, though it is customary to do so.

SHIRTS FOR SCIENCE

WASHINGTON, D. C., (INS)—Westinghouse Electric Corporation scientists literally lost their shirts to produce uranium for the atomic bomb project in 1942. The new book "Battlefronts of Industry" reveals the shirts were used to protect precious uranium chemicals from sudden showers when no other covering was available immediately.

Drive slow—children move fast.

COMIC BOOKS CITED

BERGEN, N. J., (INS)—The comic book field, which has been severely criticized lately recently won a moral victory when the Lev Gleason Publications received a citation from the Bergen County, N. J. Police Chiefs Association. The Gleason magazines, "Crime and Punishment" and "Crime Does Not Pay," were commended for their marked contribution in fighting crime at its roots.

Radioactive Materials No Aid To Crop Yields

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Government scientists told the farmer Wednesday exhaustive tests "indicate strongly" that radioactive materials have no beneficial effect on crop yields.

This report dealt a stiff blow to the popular theory, developed soon after the first atomic bomb dropped on Japan, that atomic substances might stimulate plant growth.

The experimenters stressed, however, that radioactive by-products (isotopes) of the Atomic Energy Commission's plants are a valuable research tool when used as "tracers" in studying soils, fertilizers and plant nutrition.

Present plans call for another year or tests, but up to now direct use of radioactive substances has not affected either quantity or quality of production.

Tried Out

The materials have been tried out in fourteen states on a variety of crops—eighteen in all—ranging from Georgia cotton to Washington sugar beets and Michigan spinach.

Experiments were requested and are financed by the Atomic Entrgy Commission. They are conducted by the Agriculture Department and agricultural experiment stations all across the country.

Both a commercial radioactive substance and radium have been tried out in ten repeat doses with no apparent effect.

The scientists said:

"These widespread one-season field experiments indicate strongly that the farmer cannot expect increased yields from money invested in radio-active materials.

"The question of possible stimulation of crops through use of radio-active chemicals will be investigated another year."

In addition to cotton, sugar beets and spinach, the substances have been used on corn, soybeans, oats, alfalfa, peanuts, wheat, barley, potatoes, sweet potatoes, tomatoes, turnips, ladino clover and several types of beans.

COST OF VOTES

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 2.—(INS)—The presidential campaign cost the Allegheny county Democrats $111,791—or 33 cents a vote.

An official accounting filed with the county elections department shows the county Democrats ended the campaign with a surplus of $33,064 out of total contributions of $144,856.

The biggest single item listed was $23,000 received from the Jefferson Day dinner last April.

Significantly, the report shows that $16,700 came in the day after President Truman polled 326,303 votes, a plurality of 73,031 over Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

OXFORD, Mass., Dec. 1.—(INS)—Any over-worked doctor can understand this one.

Dr. Robert S. Fletcher, 76-year-old physician, dropped from sight yesterday and his worried friends had police conducting a wide search for him.

Then Doc Fletcher showed up and assured everyone he was okay.

"Just went to a hotel," he declared, "for a night's undisturbed sleep."

Army Opportunities For Women Outlined

Sgt. Helen Marcus of the New Castle U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force recruiting main station stated today that women who enlist in regular United States Army or United States Air Force are offered great opportunities for a career.

Sgt. Marcus continued to say that the WACS and WAFS are entitled to the same rights, benefits and privileges of male soldiers with the exception of certain dependency benefits. Promotions follow the same pattern as that of male soldiers. The new income of the WAC and WAF compares favorably with that of women in the higher salary brackets. The security and retirement benefits offered by the services are matched by scarcely any civilian enterprise.

Women between the ages of 18 and 35 years are eligible for enlistment. Applicants who have not reached their 21st birthday will be required to furnish written consent of parents or legal guardian. Women with prior service are eligible provided their age does not exceed 35 plus the number of years of completed active duty. Women without prior service must be high school graduates and must be unmarried at the time of enlistment. Army enlistments are for two, three, four five or six years; Air Force for three, four, five or six years.

Applications for enlistment may be obtained from Sgt. Marcus at the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force recruiting main station in Room 400 Frew Building, New Castle, Pa.

TO THE MOTHER OF A BOY OR GIRL WHO HAS REACHED "THAT CERTAIN AGE"
Doctor's formula now brings more effective relief from skin blemishes associated with ACNE
Greaseless cream conceals pimples and blackheads at once, while it exposes and inhibits the growth of germs
Doctors now know that while pimples, blackheads, pustules and other unsightly skin blemishes occur in most adolescents, this condition with its social stigma need no longer be passively endured.
Instead, it is medically recognized that in most cases of acne there is a sub-surface infection due to certain types of germs, and if these germs can be exposed and their growth inhibited, acneform eruptions can be controlled.
Today a group of physicians working in the laboratory of a great university has announced the development of a formula which does exactly that. This formula which is the result of endless experiments and tests on thousands of actual sufferers has been called Enca Cream. When this cream is applied to the skin, the following three way action takes place:
(1) ENCA'S flesh-tinted film instantly hides unsightly skin blemishes, thus leaving a noticeably improved appearance.
(2) ENCA'S anti-biotic ingredients are held in contact with skin pores for hours to expose germs and inhibit their growth.
(3) With germ growth inhibited, pimply skin surface lesions can be controlled. Unsightly appearance tends to improve. Many are amazed to see prompt results. Your boy or girl can face the world with confidence.
MONEY BACK GUARANTEE
So why let your teen-age child suffer the humiliating handicap of skin disfigurement associated with acne? Get ENCA CREAM from your druggist today and use according to directions for one week. If you are not pleased with actual results, if unsightly skin does not feel and look better and better, then return the partly used jar and full purchase price will be refunded.

County Proposes Recreation Park

Would Take Over Dean Park From City, Develop It For Many Sports

OTHER EVENTS IN COURT HOUSE

If the City of New Castle is agreeable, Dean Park may become a county recreational park.

The county commissioners propose to take over the land, if council is willing, move a small house which is located in the park area and then develop it for recreational sport with a baseball field, football field, tennis courts and mushball court. Included in the plan would be some buildings which could be used for farm exhibits.

Commissioner Harvey B. Bush, president of the board was authorized to present the plan to council and see if council would agree. Dean Park has been used somewhat for a number of years but never to the limit of its possibilities. The commissioners envision a recreational park that would accommodate various athletic events and would fill a need that exists.

The small house which is located inside the park area could be moved to a plot across Taylor street, thus giving the park area a size large enough to accommodate many sports.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT

The first step towards making Lawrence County a Soil Conservation District was taken Wednesday morning at the meeting of the county commissioners.

Charles A. Dickinson, a resident, of Scott township and Powell G. Brown of the State Soil Commission appeared before the county commissioners and explained the steps necessary towards having this county declared a Soil Conservation District.

Mr. Dickinson, who operates a farm in Scott township said, "the control of soil erosion, rotating crops and strip farming is vitally important to farmers and to the nation today. The state has a conservation service known as the Soil Commission which co-operates with the Federal government in aiding farmers in these problems. "As a farmer I know the value of such service and it seems to me the farmers of Lawrence county would get a valuable service if this county could become a part of the program."

Said Mr. Brown: "If you gentlemen are interested in such a project I would suggest that you talk to Oscar Kimmel of the Department of Agriculture who has charge of the Soil Conservation Work. He would be glad to come to New Castle and explain the details of the plan.

"If this county is made a Soil Conservation District, it would be entirely voluntary upon the part of the farmers who cared to join with it. The state would place a man here who would advise farmers upon the steps necessary to protect slopes, prevent erosion and thus improve farming methods."

All three of the county commissioners expressed their interest in any project that would improve farming methods in this county and called Mr. Kimmel in Harrisburg. He agreed to come to New Castle on December 8 and lay the plan before the commissioners.

ASKS FOR HUSBAND'S ESTATE

Before Judge W. Walter Braham on Wednesday morning, the suit of Florence Mornes against a number of defendants was heard. The case is against the Lawrence Savings and Trust Company as trustee for the late Archibald Reed Mornes, Dr. Edwin B. Jackson, George Mornes, Charles Hammond, Sr., Eileen Scheidemantle, Rea Marshall Lytle, the Lawrence Saving and Trust Company, Betty Duff and Christine Marshall.

The plaintiff, Florence Mornes makes the following averments. That on June 9, 1931 she married Archibald Reed Mornes. Prior to the marriage a contract was entered into in which Mr. Mornes agreed to relinquish any claim to the property held by the then Florence Turner, and to leave her all his estate over and above $6,000.

Mrs. Mornes claims that prior to May 20, 1947, Mr. Mornes had holdings worth at least $20,000. That on May 20, 1947 he conveyed to the defendants named above about $14,000 worth of holdings. From these holdings he was to be paid the income during his life and at his death the following payments were to be made.

Dr. Edwin B. Jackson, $2,000; George Mornes, $1,000; Charles Hammond, Sr., $5,000; Lawrence Savings and Trust Company and residue to Dr. Edwin B. Jackson, Charles Hammond, Sr., Beatty Duff, and Christine Marshall.

Mrs. Mornes had attached a copy of the contract to her case, and asks the court to restrain the Lawrence Savings and Trust Co. from paying out the moneys set out above. She also asks that the holdings be turned in to the estate of late Mr. Mornes.

TWO SENTENCED

Two men were sentenced Wednesday morning by Judge John G. Lamoree. William S. Burdette, two charges of immorality, was fined $1 and costs and four to eight months in the county jail.

John Ciccone, making and setting up a lottery, 6 months to the Allegheny county work house.

Admiral Leahy Plans To Quit As Truman Aide

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Adm. William D. Leahy, personal chief of staff to President Truman, probably will retire from active service after the presidential inauguration next month.

The admiral's office said today that no formal announcement of retirement is yet ready to be made public, but it was learned that Leahy has made his wishes known to the president, and Mr. Truman has reluctantly agreed.

Leahy, who is 73, has more than a half century of public service behind him.

Saved French Fleet

Leahy served as United States ambassador to Vichy France after the fall of France. In this post, he was credited with being chiefly responsible for preventing all of France, as well as the French fleet, from falling into German hands early in the war.

The admiral served as chief of naval operations in the late 1930's, and later was appointed governor of Puerto Rico.

After his service as ambassador to Vichy France, he became personal chief of staff to President Roosevelt.

Pilots Active At Airport Each Day

Although cold weather has interfered somewhat with flying at the New Castle airport, operators of the Penn Aero Service there report that several pilots are still active and making flights from the port.

Harry Aven of 402 Fern street completed his multi-engine rating course and has received a certificate for his achievement.

George Williams of New Wilmington has completed a cross country flight to South Bend, Ind., while Jess E. Long, 1215 State street, and Harry Aven made a cross country flight to St. Louis, Mo., and return.

Lee Pence, R. D. 4, has completed a round trip cross country flight to Erie, Pittsburgh and return.

The International Date Line was established in 1884.

11-Point Albino Deer Is Killed

ADAMSBURG, Pa., Dec. 2.—(INS)—Sam Mull was telling his friends in Adamsburg today how he bagged an 11-point albino deer weighing 175 pounds.

Farmers in the area had known of the deer for some time but had been unable to land it.

The animal was killed on a farm near Mamont and Saltsburg.

WEDDING GUEST

"My husband and I are invited to a church wedding and reception. We should like to attend but are uncertain as to the proper procedure at the reception. Particularly so, because we have never met the bride. I have met the groom, who is a business associate of my husband. How long are we required to stay at the reception? I have an attractive faille dress, black hat and gloves. Would these be appropriate for an afternoon wedding? We have no engraved personal cards to inclose with the gift. How soon must we send our acceptance or regrets, since it is indefinite whether we shall be able to go?"

Answer: When you attend the reception, go with your husband to the receiving line. Your husband will introduce the groom to you, who will, in turn, introduce you to his bride. Congratulate the groom and offer the bride your best wishes. You must remain at the reception until after the bride and groom have left. Then you may leave at any time.

The clothes you describe will be entirely appropriate.

Inasmuch as you have no engraved cards, you may write your names on a blank white card or buy a gift card in a stationery store.

Invitations are sent out usually from two to three weeks in advance of the wedding date. They should be answered immediately if possible, but no later than a week after receipt. Either a formal acceptance or regret must be sent; also a gift, of course, whether or not you attend.

Question: Is it rude for a hostess to state definitely the specific time during which she wishes a house guest to remain?

Answer: No. On the contrary, it is the thing to do. The invitation should state definitely the time of arrival and departure. For instance: "Come on Friday to dinner and go back to the city with Jim on Monday morning."

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

New Castle High Opens 1948-49 Basketball Grind Friday

Akron Kenmore To Be Opponents

Coach George Thomas To Unfurl First Team, Very Few Seasoned Veterans

New Castle High starts a long basketball grind Friday night at Washington High floor, meeting Akron Kenmore High in the lid-lifter of the 1948-49 season. There will be an inter-squad preliminary at 7 o'clock.

Head Coach George "Gig" Thomas has not as yet decided fully on a starting lineup, but will have the following to pick from: Don Reed, who will probably be the regular center; Tony Cialella will be at a guard and Don Piccirillo at a forward. These three men saw the most service last year.

Good Reserve Material

From the reserves of last year Coach Thomas will have the following to pick from: "Jumbo" Joseph, a guard; Cliff Conti, a guard; Ben Haines, a center; Dick Lewis, a forward; Dick Sampson, a forward or center; Paul Simpson, a forward; Tom Clark, a forward, and Marion Ordak, a guard.

There are also several fine looking prospects from the three junior high schools available this year.

Cowmeadow Assistant

Assistant to Thomas this year will be Austin Cowmeadow, who did a swell job last year as aide to Bill Douglass. Cowmeadow has a good reserve team again this year.

Little is known here of the Akron team outside of the fact that they have a veteran combination on hand.

New Castle will play again next Tuesday at Youngstown, meeting Ursuline High.

Epworth, First U. P. Edge Class A Foes

Bill Samuels And 'Lucky' Ward Lead Their Teams To Second Straight Win

First U. P. continued its winning ways in the class A church league last night by defeating St. George Greeks 48 ot 32. Bill Samuels was red hot for the winners as he canned 19 points. Koginos with three field goals and two fouls was high for the Greeks.

Epworth also hung up its second straight win, lacing First Baptist 49 to 30. Lucky Ward racked up 15 points for Epworth and Lach led the Baptists with 12.

Four Best Teams Will Only Watch Bowl Games

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—The four best football teams in the nation will listen to the post-season bowl games over the radio. They positively will not be participants.

They are, of course:

Notre Dame.

Michigan.

Army.

Navy.

There no doubt will be some eye-brow lifting over my including Navy among the best teams. But the Middies sneaked in ther last Saturday.

If you are going to place unbeaten Army among the best you must include Navy, which failed all season to beat a single foe but did manage to play Army 21-21.

Navy doesn't play post-season games and thus is in a category with Notre Dame and Army.

Michigan Sits Out

Michigan does play post-season games, but under the Big Nine-Coast Conference contract, the team can't go back into the Rose Bowl this season because it was there last year. The contract probably doesn't say so, but implies that Michigan can't play in any other bowl.

The Coast Conference has the Big Nine sewed up, or vice versa.

So the Big Nine's second best team, Northwestern, makes the trip this season.

The best game of New Year's Day is likely to be played, not in the Rose Bowl, but, as usual, in the New Orleans Sugar Bowl. In this one, North Carolina, once-tied, meets Oklahoma, once beaten.

Why Not Oregon?

The Rose Bowl actually brings on a couple of humpty-dumpties. Northwestern was not the best team in the Big Nine by a margin of two defeats. California, the host team, was appointed to the bowl.

Oregon actually had a better record on the coast, but was deprived by the officials of a chance to play California for the Rose Bowl privileges and was shunted aside to let California in. Politics they call it on the coast.

Oregon scored seven conference victories against six for California.

Oregon, beaten only by Michigan in a non-coast game, will show its wares in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas against Southern Methodist, which lost one and tied one.

It Could Happen

It would be fitting retribution for the Coast Conference if Northwestern were to beat California, which is likely and Oregon were to run over South Methodist, also a strong possibility.

To pick out one game among the many on New Year's Day and say this is the best would be hazardous. However, it seems assured that the best won't be in the Rose Bowl.

Eagles Start Selling Tickets For Title Game

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 2.—(INS)—The Philadelphia Eagles today began accepting mail applications for tickets to the National Football league championship playoff to be held at Shibe Park, with all seats reserved at $5.25 a head.

The game is tentatively scheduled for December 19 unless a sectional playoff is necessary between the Chicago Bears and Chicago Cardinals to decide the western champions. The Eagles clinched the eastern crown Sunday.

A joint statement by League Commissioner Bert Bell and Charles Ewart, general manager of the Eagles, said over-the-counter sales of tickets would open Sunday, December 12, at Shibe Park during the game with the Detroit Lions.

Memorial Plaque Will Honor Ruth

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—(INS)—The New York Yankees and the New York Chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America will erect a memorial plaque in honor of Babe Ruth at the Yankee stadium.

The joint announcement said the plaque of the famous home run slugger will be unveiled on opening day—April 19.

The memorial will be set up at the centerfield flagpole where there now are similar plaques to Miller Huggins, former Yankee manager; Lou Gehrig, all-time Yankee first-base star, and Jacob Ruppert, former Yankee owner.

HICKORY DEFEATS MOUNTIES 31 TO 30

Foul Shot In Last Fifteen Seconds Decides Close Game On Mt. Jackson Floor

Mt. Jackson High cagers lost their opening game of the season last night on their home court when they dropped a one-point decision to the Hickory High Hornets from nearby Mercer county. Final score was 31-30.

It was the opening game for both squads and each had difficulty making shots from the field. The first quarter score favored the Mounties 5 to 3 with neither quintet registering a field goal. Pat Kerr, the game's leading scorer with 13 points, led the way to keep Mt. Jackson ahead at halftime 14 to 12.

Good Ball Game

The Hornets just about put the game away in the third period when they made 10 points and the Mounties slumped behind with only four markers. Joe Vranges led this assault with several nice shots around the hoop.

Hickory led 30 to 26 with a little more than a minute to play when McCullough flipped in a neat one hander from way out and Kerr tied the score with two more points. As bedlam reigned in the Mounties gym, Seem calmly shot one from the free throw line to give Hickory a one-point victory margin.

Hickory Reserves defeated the Mt. Jackson J. V. 26 to 16 in the preliminary contest.

Four Penn Staters Given Bowl Bids

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Dec. 2.—(INS)—Football Coach Bob Higgins today said four Pennsylvania State college seniors have accepted invitations to compete in post-season grid games.

Guard John Simon, of Brownsville, and Tackle John Finley, of Harrisburg, will play for the East on the annual East-West game at San Francisco New Year's Day, Higgins reported.

Back Elwood Petchel, of Easton, and End Sam Tamburo, of New Kensington, will be on the North's squad in the North-South tilt at Miami Christmas night, he added.

PITT TO PLAY MICHIGAN FIVE

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Pitt's vagabond basketball team—which scheduled 18 games on the road this year—made it an uneven 19 with the announcement that Michigan had been added to the schedule.

The Panthers will play at Ann Arbor, Mich., on December 13. Pitt plays only six games at the stadium where the Panthers open the season with Penn State on Saturday.

Bearden Sweats, But Not By Choice

Hollywood, Calif.—Artificial perspiration is administered big league player, Gene Bearden (r) by M-G-M makeup artist Lou LaCava who sprays glycerine and water from gun for scene in "The Stratton Story". Bearden, who pitches against Stratton (James Stewart) in the picture, said sweat always came naturally on the diamond, but this is Hollywood. Bearden is a star hurler with the Cleveland Indians, World champions in 1948.

McPeak Again Wins Pitt Award

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Bill McPeak, captain nad senior end from New Castle, has a handsome trophy today attesting that the Pitt football squad considers him its "outstanding player of 1948".

Announcement of his selection was made Wednesday night at the Pitt football banquet, and the praise which was heaped on his broad shoulders was accepted with sincere, heart-warming modesty.

"Thanks," McPeak said. "There weren't any outstanding players on our team. We played as a unit. But thanks anyhow."

McPeak also won the award last year.

Dudley Degroot, West Virginia's grid coach, led a parade of football notables who appeared at the barquet. Degroot expressed the hope that Pitt would "get its house in order" and continue on the course set by the 1948 team.

Softball Champions Dine At Rochester

New Castle Sons Of Italy Will Be Honored As Valley League Champs

The Sons of Italy softball team, champions of the Beaver Valley Sons of Italy league, will be honored this evening at a banquet to be held at the Sons of Italy hall in Rochester, Pa. The dinner is slated to start at 6:30 p.m. and the players will leave the club at 5:30.

The local team went through the season with 18 straight victories and no defeats. They then defeated West Aliquippa and Rochester in the Shaughnessy play-off to capture the crown.

The team was managed by the veteran Nickie Ross who has led many a team to championships in this district.

Galaxy Of Stars

Included on the roster are such stars as Sam Mooney, Joe Mazzari, Greg Ross, Al DiMuccio, Sam and Frank Copple, Phil Richards, "Pee-wee" Naples, Joe Temperato, Joe Cooper, "Peachy" Fornataro, Lou Santangelo, "Yanks" Alfera, Dundo Ambrosia, Greeno Forconi, Sam DeLillo, T. Capp, Nick Russo. Nick George was the business manager and Frankie Ross, chairman of the athletic committee.

This is the first year the local team was entered in the Beaver Valley league and deserve a lot of credit for winning the championship in their first year. A handsome trophy will be presented to them for their accomplishment.

Basketball Starts In Garden Tonight

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Intercollegiate basketball will inaugurate its 15th season at Madison Square Garden tonight when St. John's meets Tennessee and New York University takes on Baylor.

The program is the first of 25 doubleheaders scheduled for the Garden this season. Two single games—NYU against Notre Dame and NYU and City College of New York—also have been scheduled.

Pro Teams Make Bid For Services Of Stan Heath

MILWAUKEE, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Stan Heath, the University of Nevada's All-American back from Milwaukee, was reported to have received definite offers or feelers from five professional football teams.

Top on the list bidding for the services of the star passer was the New York Yankees of the All-America Football Conference.

Three other AAFC teams were said to be definitely interested. They are the San Francisco 49-ers, the Los Angeles Dons and the Chicago Rockets.

The lone National Football league club involved in reports concerning the transferee from the University of Wisconsin is the Green Bay Packers.

The Yankees reportedly have offered Heath between $30,000 and $50,000 for a two-year contract, plus a bonus for signing. The New York bid is believed to be the only definite one.

Miami Redskins Refuse Bowl Bid

OXFORD, O., Dec. 2.—(INS)—The Miami Redskins will stay home, or close thereabouts, on New Year's Day.

A University Senate committee, composed of faculty members and administrative employes turned thumbs down last night on an invitation for the football team to play in the Basin Bowl at Odessa, Texas.

The committee refused to reveal how the Indian team had voted earlier on the proposition, and Head Coach George Blackburn was not available for comment.

The faculty members based their decision on "unwillingness to extend the football season beyond . . . nine games for the second consecutive year.

The Redskins trimmed Texas Tech 15-12 in the Sun Bowl last January 1. The Indians won seven, tied one and lost one to Dayton in the season just passed.

They have multiplied so greatly they've made their way into Lawrence county, and it is no longer news when one shoots one outside the city limits.

It is not unusual to learn of a deer bounding from a field against an auto traveling a public highway, in which the deer is killed and the auto damaged. Big Nine Is Sick Of Rose Bowl Agreement

By LEO FISCHER
(International News Service Sports Writer)

CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—It is considered almost a foregone conclusion that the Pacific Coast-Big Nine Rose Bowl agreement will not be renewed when the present five-year pact expires.

This became apparent as members of the big nine pondered the latest development in the situation—the spectacle of two Pacific coast elevens playing in rival bowls on New Year's Day.

The agreement was virtually doomed without this added incongruous touch, but there is little doubt that the big nine's faculty board will use this as the final reason for rejecting its renewal.

One prominent big nine official declared:

"Permitting Oregon to accept a Cotton Bowl bid breaks all precedent. We don't permit big nine teams to play elsewhere, and most of us felt the Pacific Coast conference would go along on the same basis.

"Certainly it shatters all precedent for that organization and opens the way for a flock of post-season games if they want to go into it on a wholesale basis. From now on, any time they have a couple of good teams they can point to the Oregon case".

Biggest objection from the big nine standpoint is that the Rose Bowl has overshadowed the conference championship. As one critic put it:

"They didn't dance in the streets and call off classes at Michigan, yet that school won the championship. In other years, the championship was the big deal, and we'd like to return it to that basis.

Two More Years

The present agreement has two more years to run after the Northwestern-California game on the coming New Year's Day. Under the terms of the big nine pact, no team can represent the Western conference more than once in any three-year period, which means that both Michigan and Northwestern will be ineligible next year.

Illinois, which inaugurated the series, could go back next year, but the contract provides that the big nine may go outside its ranks in the final two years if it so desires.

One athletic director pointed out that from a financial standpoint, the deal is hardly worth while. The big nine's share is divided into 11 parts, of which two go to the competing school, one to the commissioner's office, and the others to the other eight conference institutions.

Each big nine treasury received $9,200 last year. Michigan's two shares amounted to $18,400, but the Wolverines spent more than $11,000 above their expense allotment, leaving them with only about $7,000 net.

The Pacific Coast conference schools also split the proceeds. So Oregon, not being bound by any agreement in its special dispensation, will be able to keep its entire share of the Cotton Bowl gate, approximately $100,000—and also, apparently, will get the normal Rose Bowl share given to each coast conference school.

NOTRE DAME MAY PLAY BOSTON U.

BOSTON, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Notre Dame is being mentioned as a possible football opponent for Boston university for the next three years.

The Boston Daily Record said Tom Yawkey, owner of the Boston Red Sox, has agreed to guarantee Notre Dame $100,000 a game for a three-game series 'to be' played at Fenway Park.

Strong Semi-Pro Team Organizing

There will be a meeting at the "Y" Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock for all basketball players in New Castle interested in forming a strong semi-pro team to be known as the New Castle All-Stars.

It is the intention to play a road schedule of games. Games will be booked with the best clubs in the Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio area. Only eight stellar performers will be carried on the squad.

Football Player Killed In Crash, Three Are Injured

NANTICOKE, Pa., Dec. 2.—(INS)—One Wilkes college football player was killed and three teammates were injured last night when their automobile crashed into a utility pole at Nanticoke.

Police identified the dead youth as Joseph Gallagher, 22, of Kingston.

Injured were George Lewis, 23, of Forty Fort; John Fenney, 22, of Kingstown, and Albert Dalton, 24, of Wilkes-Barre.

Lewis, the driver, was in critical condition at Nanticoke State hospital. Dalton was admitted to the hospital with head injuries and lacerations. Feeney was discharged after treatment.

Police said Lewis apparently swerved to avoid a car traveling in the opposite direction when the accident occurred.

BROWNS ACCEPTING TICKET ORDERS

CLEVELAND, Dec. 2.—(INS)—The Cleveland Browns began accepting orders today for tickets for the All-America Football Conference championship game to be played in Cleveland either on December 12 or December 19.

The date of the title game depends on the outcome of the Eastern division race. Should Buffalo and Baltimore tie for the eastern laurels, the game will be moved back from the December 12 date to make room for a playoff game.

Union Hi Threat For County Ttile

Scottie Cagers Have Height And Experience To Make Them Top Contenders

Union High's Scotties, boasting nine lettermen and five reserves from last year, loom as one of the top contenders for section 23 basketball honors in the 1948-49 season.

Coach Chuck James' quintet will have an abundance of height and experience to hold its own with any of the pre-season favorites in the county league. Ed Novotne, 6-2, returns to his center slot. Two reserves from last year, Ken Kendra, 6-1, and Pete Barber, 6-3, should be capable replacements in the pivot post.

Guards Strong

Forwards, John Pilshaw, Arsen Ross and Frank Presnar have the size, experience and shooting ability to keep Union high in the scoring column. At the guards, James has a real fight on his hands. Five defensemen are returning from last year's varsity and they all want the starting nod. Dana Polding, Ronnie May and John Salmen are three sentinel candidates that are six foot or better. However they are being pushed by Ed Sniezek and Glenn Hedrick, who make up in speed and ball handling what they lack in height.

Six Exhibitions

The Scotties play at New Wilmington January 4 to begin their title quest. Pre season games have been arranged with George Junior Republic on a home and home basis. The first game will be played at the Scottie gym Friday night and a return engagement takes place December 7. Union has home exhibition games scheduled with Ursuline on Dec. 10, and Darlington, Dec. 14. The pre-league games conclude with an away contest at Freedom, December 17 and one at Monaca, Dec. 21.

VILLANOVA WINS OPENER 71 TO 54

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Villanova's basketball season was off to a winning start today by virtue of a 71-54 trouncing the Mainliners handed Loyola college.

The Wildcats thus kept well over their 66-point average of last season. Brooks Ricca scored 20 points to pace the Cats, while Paul Arizen tallied 19. Mike Zedalis was high for the Greyhounds with 15 points.

Plan To Retire Famous Australian Horse, Shannon II

Will Place Famous Australian Horse In Stud At Kentucky Farm

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Shannon II, one of the greatest turf champions ever developed in Australia, will be retired from racing "within 60 days" and placed in stud at the Spendthrift Farm in Kentucky.

Leslie B. Combs, II, who purchased the galloper from "down under" for $300,000 Tuesday, said Shannon's racing days are over.

Neil S. McCarthy, Los Angeles attorney and sportsman, who sold the Australian wonder horse to a Kentucky syndicate headed by Combs, today confirmed the decision to withdraw Shannon from racing.

Retirement of the seven-year-old bay horse means the end of a fabulous turf career. McCarthy had purchased Shannon for a reported $100,000 less than one year ago, and then watched the stallion subsequently knock off six major stakes and earn $210,110 in purses.

The two Chicago teams both made money last year, and both will make money this year, despite the fact the Cards have to pay $100,000 for Charlie Trippe and George Halas of the Bears is spending $60,000 this year for quarterbacks alone.

Detroit Breaks Losing Streak

(International News Service)

The Detroit Red Wings broke a four-game home losing streak at Detroit by defeating the Toronto Maple Leafs 5 to 3 last night before 13,231 National Hockey league fans.

Boston's league-leading Bruins were held scoreless for two periods, but they broke out with a rash of goals in the final stanza to down the Chicago Blackhawks 5 to 1.

In the American League, the Hershey Bears trounced the Philadelphia Rockets 5-1, in a tilt which saw the Rocket's George Defelice, who was honored before the game as the "player of the month", trade punches with Phil Maloney.

The league leading Providence five was edged out 3-2 by Indianapolis, while New Haven and Buffalo fought to a 1-1 deadlock, and Washington downed the Springfield Indians 5-2.

New York Stocks

STOCK MARKET TREND HIGHER

Number Of Large Blocks Of Stock Are Sold During Morning Trading

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Stocks continued higher in forenoon trading this morning, most leaders edging up fractionally. Though trading was slow, first hour volume of 320,000 shares reflected sales of a number large blocks of stock at the opening. These included 4,000 Radio Corp., 1,500 Curtiss-Wright, 1,000 Republic Steel, and a string of 5,000 Commonwealth & Southern.

Motors and steels crept forward an average of ¼ each. Southern Pacific added ⅞. Kennecott sold at 56, up 1. Standard Oil of N. J. and Sinclair Oil headed higher. United Aircraft and TWA were sizable fractions better.

Profit taking depressed New York cotton as much as 30 cents a bale.

Curb shares and big board bonds were firm.

Detroit Banker Issues Warning

Says Trend Toward Increased Government Controls Is Dangerous

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Joseph M. Dodge, prominent Detroit banker, warned in a speech before the 53rd annual Congress of American Industry today that the trend toward increased government controls over the nation's economy is dangerous.

Dodge told the Congress, in session in New York, that the country is now 'deep in political uncertainty."

A bit pessimistically, he asserted that all the normal risks and problems of business and investment are "multiplied" by this uncertainty.

"Coupled with obstacles and difficulties already created," he said, "the present outlook is not an encouraging one."

Dodge, former president of the American Bankers Association, and now president of the Detroit bank, said that with all our "statistical prosperity," we have been plagued by a shortage of risk capital. Dodge said:

"During a time when the need for rescources for investment to expand production has been greatest government has been using far too large a part of the total resources of the community for too long for its own purposes, and proposes to use even more."

Veering toward a more optimistic viewpoint, he declared there is no limit to what we can do if the "traditional sources of our accomplishments are not smothered by confusion, restrictions, taxation and inflation."

Discloses Tojo Has Prepared Peace Message

TOKYO, Dec. 2. — (INS) — A Buddhist priest disclosed today that Hideki Tojo has left a "peace" message for the world and is "grateful" that Gen. Douglas MacArthur has proclaimed a "day of prayer" on the date of the war crimes execution.

The priest, Nobukatsu Hanayama, said that Japan's "Pearl Harbor Premier" has dictated a last message to him pleading to the world for peace and emphasizing the futility of war.

Hanayama said he will release the text of the message after the executions of Tojo and six other war criminals take place.

The hangings of the seven condemned major Japanese warmakers have been delayed pending action on appeals before the United States Supreme Court.

Hanayama told International News Service that Tojo, awaiting execution in Tokyo's Sugamo prison, "is now a completely changed man."

The priest said the wartime Japanese leader embraced the Buddhist faith six months ago and has "lost his belief in war."
